Marin City Rec Center Smashed

Public Report Not Made

By ROSS DAVIS

The temporary recreation center in Marin City, leased under an $8,000, two-year contract last April, today is a near useless and badly vandalized building. It has been wrecked and closed, with no public report of what happened.

Sheriff's deputies today disclosed damage to the 32-foot-by-40-foot building includes all eight windows broken, two pool tables upset and one of them broken, and evidence of at least two attempts at arson.

OVER PERIOD

The vandalism, according to Sheriff's Sgt. Wade Powell, apparently has occurred over a period of several weeks. He said however, the sheriff's office had received no report from the center about the destruction.

Powell said the damage first came to his attention when two deputies joined Marin County firemen in putting out a small grass fire near the center Saturday night.

On Sunday, the deputies, Leonard Thrall and Al Brown, examined the building because they had noticed the broken windows. They learned someone had attempted to set fire to a wall beneath a front window, according to their report. Only a small smudge resulted, however.

REPORT PACT

KY FACES CRISIS IN HIS CABINET

Premier, Dissident Members Agree To Stalemate Until After Conference

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky and seven dissident cabinet ministers agreed tonight to hold their government-wobbling crisis in abeyance until after next week's Manila Conference.

A high Vietnamese government source said two of the seven tore up their letters of resignations and the other five agreed to stay on the job at least until Ky returns from the conference.

The agreement came following day-long talks between Ky and the dissidents, whose dissatisfaction stems from a feeling that the government is dominated by the military and Northerners.

Agreement of the ministers to stay on, at least temporarily, steadied the government Ky will represent at Manila.

A high government official told UP that Labor Minister Nguyen Huu Hung and Truong Van Thuan, secretary of state for transportation and logistics, have withdrawn their letters of resignation.

Word of the agreement here confirmed reports in Washington that Ky had succeeded in at last patching over the crisis.

It had threatened to spill over into the newly elected Constituent Assembly where about 20 to 25 of the 117 deputies were threatening to revolt because of resentment over the power and prestige of the Northerners.

The revolt represented a worse threat to government stability than the Buddhist uprising last spring.

Borate Bombers Help Battle Flames

A quick burning fire, generating thick black smoke, roared over 500 acres of grass, brush and timber on the Marincello property yesterday before it was controlled by 65 firemen after five and one half hours.

The blaze, surrounded by fire breaks was still burning today in the canyons above the Golden Gate headlands. County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said it will probably be a week before it burns itself out.

A spark from the engine of a well-drilling machine on the Marincello property set off the blaze at 1:40 p.m., Bloom said. The crew of James and Walker Drilling Co. of Santa Rosa tried to halt the blaze, but lost it to 30-mile-an-hour winds, the chief reported.

The east wind pushed the fire to within 1,000 feet of the radar installation at Fort Cronkhite. It was stopped there by aerial bombers sent by the State Division of Forestry from Santa Rosa.

The burning brush sent up thick, black clouds of smoke which at times completely blacked out the sun over Southern Marin, the Golden Gate, and San Francisco.

The smoke was particularly heavy over San Francisco, being fanned there by west and southwest winds. The dark haze could be seen as far away as San Jose.

The blackened area was well populated with wildlife before yesterday. Firemen reported seeing several deer and rabbits fleeing before the flames. Several of the animals died in the blaze, Chief Bloom reported.

At times, when the blaze got into thick brush, the flames roared along about 50 feet high, Chief Bloom said. Humidity during the fifre was measured at 11 per cent at Woodacre, a critical low, according to the chief.

Chief Bloom said firefighting efforts were hampered by the steep terrain, which made the 13 trucks and two buldozers under his command effective only on the ridges.

The bomber planes, with their loads of rust red chemicals, "were very effective," the chief said.

At one point, the operator of a bulldozer, blinded by the smoke, rode his machine into an eight-foot ditch, but he escaped uninjured. The bulldozer, encircled by flames, was saved by a load from one of the bomber planes, the chief said.

The wind, blowing the fire toward the ocean, "was very unusual for this area," the chief said. "If it had come from the ocean, like it usually does, it would have pushed the fire up toward Wolfback Ridge and Sausalito. I guess we were lucky."

Chief Bloom said the fire will probably burn for a week. "Way down in the canyons which we have cut off with fire breaks."

School Cash Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today the $6.1-billion compromise education bill providing funds to continue the grade and high school aid program for a second and third year.

San Rafael Asked To Replace Short School At $900,000 Cost

San Rafael City Schools' business manager recommended last night that 62-year-old Short School, which does not meet the state's earthquake resistant standards, be replaced at a cost estimated at $900,000.

Acting Supt. William C. Jordan said this could require the board of education to call two bond issues, one to bring schools up to earthquake safety standards and another to provide a third high school.

Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said that since the elementary district doesn't have the funds to build a new Short School, it will be necessary to call a bond issue or divert funds from other contemplated building projects.

Condrotte reported the main building at Short School should be replaced. He estimated it would cost $700,000 for construction and $200,000 for property acquisition.

As porposed a new 14-room, two-story school would be constructed at Marin Street and Clorinda Avenue, and additional property would be acquired at the site for a play yard.

Five or six parcels of land adjacent to the present school should be purchased, Condrotte said. Approximately four or five homes on the parcels and the existing kindergarten building should be removed, he said. An existing two-classroom building would be converted to a kindergarten.

"The area where the present school is now located should be paved for playground purposes and a kindergarten play yard," he said.

Laurel Dell Primary School, which also fails to meet the earthquake-resistant standards, should be brought up to standard and continue to be used, Condrotte recommended.

He estimated that it would cost $35,000 to bring Laurel Dell Primary up to standard and accomplish some minor modernization.

"The schools not in compliance with the Field Act should be replaced or repaired without a long period of delay," Condrotte said.

He suggested that Laurel Dell Intermediate School, which does meet standards, be used as part of the Davidson Junior High School "until a new junior high school, which will be part of the next bond issue, is constructed in the east end of the district."

When the new junior high school opens, Laurel Dell Intermediate School can again be converted to fourth to sixth grades or lower elementary grades and used in conjunction with Short School, he proposed.

The board also received a report from Harold Engle Sr. of the structural engineering firm of Engle and Engle, San Rafael, that it would cost $77,000 to bring the old gymnasium at San Rafael High School up to state earthquake proof standards.

"To replace it would cost from $350,000 to $400,000," he estimated.

Engle said the old gymnasium is on a solid foundation, with walls of reinforced concrete, and "with the exception of the locker room is not bad."

The locker room roof is deficient and repair would involve a total replacement of the roof, he said.

New Sausalito Library To Be On Waterfront

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Sausalito City Council last night voted unanimously to build the new library north of Vina Del Mar Plaza near the waterfront.

The vote ended 55 years of talk on where to put the library, according to long-time residents.

Councilmen ignored a recommendation by the planning commission that the library be on Bridgeway north of the Bank of America. The city-owned waterfront site had been endorsed by the library board, planning consultants, Sausalito Woman's Clubs and many residents.

The council granted $1,600 to its planning consultants on revision of the master plan, William Spangle and Associates and Eckbo, Dean, Austin and Williams, to coordinate planning of the plaza with Aaron Green, architect for the library.

Peking Prepares Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Communist China is preparing for a fourth nuclear test, informed U.S. government sources reported today.

They declined to estimate when it might occur, but indicated preparations were not far enough along for it to take place during the Manila Conference President Johnson will attend next week.

Whether the next test might be a hydrogen device was a matter of speculation. Sources said evidence of preparations did not indicate the nature of the test.

New Zealanders Give LBJ Warm Welcome

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI)—President Johnson won a warm welcome to this "down under" ally today that was marred only by wet weather and occasional anti-Viet Nam picketing.

As the President's six-nation Asian tour got underway he was greeted by word of a cabinet crisis in South Viet Nam where a group of ministers quit the government. But in Wellington, all was friendly and talks between Johnson and Prime Minister Keith Holyoake were proceeding smoothly.

Maori natives danced in the Johnson's honor.

Two anti-Viet Nam signs were raised along the cold, blustery route to the city, but a dozen pro-Viet Nam signs were seen.

As Johnson began his visit here Communist China today denounced him as a "warmonger" and charged that his Far Eastern tour was designed to step up the war in Viet Nam.

The official New China News Agency (NCNA), in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, said "U.S. warmonger Lyndon Johnson arrived in Honolulu on a tour of the Far East in which he will wave the banner of peace while actually trying to expand the war of aggression in Viet Nam.

A handful of pickets appeared outside Government House to denounce American and New Zealand policy on Viet Nam, while the Johnsons were entertained at a formal dinner and reception for 300 persons last night.

Johnson grinned and was relaxed. Mrs. Johnson wore a full-length white evening gown topped with a matching jacket that glittered with glass beads and rhinestones.

Rain that met the Johnsons on arrival at Ohakea airport, 90 miles from Wellington, let up by the time they reached the city after their four-hour flight from Pago Pago. But the weather was far from ideal.

U.S. Population Now 196 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau today estimaed the total resident population of the United States at 196,226,000 as of Sept. 1. This was 9.4 per cent higher than the 1960 census count and 1.1 per cent above the same time last year.

Including servicemen abroad, the total population as of Sept. 1 was 197,223,000, the bureau estimated.

Officials expect the population to reach 200 million by the end of next year.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Baldness Gives Proper Look

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's at least one man in the United States who is glad he is bald: Stephen N. Shulman, new chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Shulman

To Shulman, a graduate of Harvard University and Yale University Law School, responsibility has come early

At 28 he was an executive assistant to then Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

At 29 he was a deputy assistant secretary of defense in charge of personnel, industrial relations and civil rights.

By the time he was 32, Shulman was general counsel of the Air Force.

Several weeks ago he took over the post vacated when Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. resigned to campaign for governor of New York.

Has Shulman found any resentment from the many older government employees—including generals and admirals—who have worked under him?

"I never found that to be a problem," he said in an interview—his first since becoming commission chairman. "I think the fact I'm bald is a tremendous help."

'Pill' Approval

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of Planned Parenthood — World Population says the Defense Department, with President Johnson's approval, will issue birth control devices to the wives of armed forces personnel who request them. The program will begin Jan. 1. Alan Guttmacher, told the group at its 50th anniversary banquet last night.

Lottery Proposal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Plans for a state lottery, sunk once, are afloat again. Robert Wilson, of El Monte, who proposed the lottery defeated by voters in 1964, submitted a similar proposal to the attorney general yesterday. Nearly 500,000 voters must petition for the new proposal to be placed on the ballot.

Wage Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — A compromise wage agreement with some 350 practical nurses at Cook County Hospital last night ended a two-day sick-call boycott. The nurses were to report to work today.

Sausalito Still Seeking Manager

Sausalito's three-month search for a new city manager may end "in a few weeks," Mayor Mel Wax said today. He made a similar prediction Sept. 21.

The city council discussed candidates for the job in a closed session last night.

Fire Chief Charles E. Masten has been acting city manager since July 1, when Charles A. Brown left to become a municipal adviser in Caracas, Venezuela, with the Agency for International Development.

Committee Defers Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO (UPI)—The Norwegian Peace Prize Committee announced today it will not award the Nobel Peace Prize this year.

The committee gave no reason for its decision. An official announcement issued following a session in the Nobel Foundation Building simply said the committee had decided to defer the 1966 Peace Prize until next year.

The decision was taken by the five-member committee named by the Norwegian Parliament which is solely responsible for selecting the winner of the $58,000 award, one of the most prestigious in the world.

It marked the third occasion since World War II that the Nobel Committee had made such a decision.

It happened first in 1952 when the prize was reserved for awarding the following year. Then it was given to Albert Schweitzer, the great humanitarian.

Gen. George C. Marshall was awarded the prize for 1953 at the same time.

The second occasion was in 1960 when the prize was awarded in 1961 to South African Nationalist Leader Albert Luthuli at the same time U. S. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold received the 1961 prize posthumously.

The prizes for 1948, 1955 and 1956 were not distributed and the prize money for those years went back to the Nobel Foundation.

Court Recesses

SINGAPORE (AP) — The tribunal trying Indonesia's former Foreign Minister Subandrio on charges of treason, corruption and complicity in last year's abortive Communist coup has recessed until next Tuesday, when it will deliver its verdict, Radio Jakarta reported today.

Both Brown, Reagan Woo Same Person

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Both candidates for governor were wooing the same woman today while their top running mates wrangled angrily over a college degree.

Mrs. Carmen Warschaw, former state Democratic vice chairman, was the object of attention from Democratic Gov. Brown and Republican Ronald Reagan.

REAGAN VISIT

The GOP contender visited Mrs Warschaw in her home yesterday, and afterward she called him "a man of moderation."

That sort of statement wasn't welcomed by Brown, who told a news conference yesterday he'd met twice last weekend with Mrs. Warschaw to ask for her endorsement. She didn't give it, he added.

Mrs. Warschaw didn't endorse Reagan, either. But she is known to be unhappy with what she believes was Brown's lack of support for her candidacy for state party chairman earlier this year. She lost that race to Charles Warren.

ANDERSON DEGREE

The statewide chairman for Robert Finch, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, touched off another battle by charging that Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson received a bachelors' degree from UCLA without actually qualifying for it.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, implied that Anderson brought "political pressure to bear" to get his degree from the university.

Democrat Anderson responded angrily, accusing Finch of "scurrilous remarks" and demanding an apology. He also accused Finch of bing "a smear artist."

In San Diego, GOP candidate Spencer Williams said his opponent, Democratic Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, is involved in a tacit agreement with San Francisco officials to make sure persons arrested in that city's recent racial rioting get light sentences.

FREEMAN HELP

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, winding up a two-day state tour, drew scattered boos in Stockton when he told the State Grange that Brown is "the best governor in the United States." Later in Sacramento, Freeman predicted a strong "stretch drive" would win the governor re-election.

Reagan won endorsement today from 10 Copley newspapers, headed by the San Diego Union and the Sacramento Union.

LATEST POLL

The latest State Poll, copyrighted by the Los Angeles Times, showed Democratic Treasurer Bert A. Betts holding a six percentage point lead over Republican Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest; Democratic Controller Alan Cranston leading Republican Houston Flournoy by 27 percentage points; and GOP Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan 17 percentage points ahead of challenger Norbert Schlei.

And Reagan, who once led a strike, told teachers last night he feels they do not have the right to strike to achieve their demands.

55 Seconds And Port In Shambles

CALLAO, Peru (AP) — It took nature only 55 seconds to strike the Peruvian port of Callao a blow from which it won't recover for years.

At 4:42 p.m. Monday, Callao was bustling with the activity that goes with being Peru's major seaport and the maritime gateway to Lima, seven miles to the east.

By 4:53, the shock wave from a massive earthquake a few miles offshore had struck the city with unbelievable force and 32 persons were dead or dying. Most were children crushed when roofs of the makeshift huts in the slums known as barriadas collapsed.

More than 70 persons were hospitalized. Another 250 had minor injuries.

Glass, plaster and walls of buildings tumbled into the streets or collapsed inward, trapping some residents.

Panic spread, then mounted as a rumor flashed through the city that a tidal wave was rushing toward the coast. There was a tidal wave, but it headed out into the Pacific, not inland, and dissipated.

Pedestrians were warned away from buildings with gaping cracks in the walls along the main street. Homeowners and shopkeepers swept up glass and plaster and piled debris at the curb to wait the refuse trucks.

Life was returning to normal today. But the cracks in the buildings remained, foretelling widespread demolition that will be necessary as the damage is catalogued.

The quake was Peru's most savage in years. By unofficial count, 101 were killed and 1,000 injured, but casualty reports were incomplete. The U.S. Embassy in Lima said no Americans were among the killed or injured.

Light trucks can now use more than 60 combinations of truck and passenger tires, and wheels.

North Releases Pilot Pictures

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam today released pictures of three men who it said were U.S. pilots shot down during raids into North Viet Nam in the past two months.

Hanoi's Viet Nam News Agency identified the pilots in a caption as:

U.S. Air Force Capt. Norman Louross Wells, 33, 355th Tactical Air Wing, shot down and captured in Quang Binh Province Aug. 12.

Capt. Donald Glenn Waltman, shot down and captured Sept. 19 while flying an F105 over Ha Bac.

DAMAGE

said an agreement had been made with Douglas J. Quiett when Quiett was acting director of the county's Community Relations Services that reports of minor damage would be made by the hall directly to the board of supervisors.

Reason for this agreement by the sheriff's office, he said, was to avoid unwarranted charges of harassment by deputies of Marin City residents using the facilities.

Stinson said, however, the agreement did not include such vandalism as attempted arson, mass breaking of windows, or breaking up furniture.

He said no such reports were received on the present destruction.

Mrs. Beatrice Duke, acting assistant director of Community Relations Center Service, Marin City, admitted today the hall was closed about two months ago because of vandalism.

She said the vandalism, which included the broken windows, occurred during hours the center was closed.

When the hall first opened, she said, a man identified as Ray Edwards was in charge of its operation. William Compton later replaced Edwards, she reported.

Mrs. Duke said teen-age dances held in the building, and both pool and table tennis facilities were used. She said vandalism reports were made to the person in charge at the time, but that she does not know whether the reports were relayed to the sheriff's office.

The building, erected by Modulux Corp., is on Drake Avenue on a site prepared by the county public works department. Its use was to be a temporary measure until a permanent recreation center can be established.

Woman Charged As Check Artist

PISMO BEACH (AP)—Police said today they have arrested a woman accused of writing bad checks totaling more than $20,000.

Chief Elden Howard identified her as Mrs. Marie Della Medeiros, 31, Oakland.

No Responsibility Assigned In Wreck

A Novato police report of a collision in Grant Avenue was incorrectly published in yesterday's Independent-Journal as indicating that a car driven by Joseph W. Judd of Novato was hit by one driven by Steven Mark Vantrease of Corte Madera.

The police report did not assign any responsibility for the collision, which occurred as Judd was backing out of a parking place.

Criticizes Route Plan

A crowd that overflowed the Wolfe Grade School multi-purpose room last night proved sharply critical of the southern route being considered for extension of Highway 17 to the West Marin shore.

C F. Greene, deputy district director of the State Division of Highways, outlined the four routes under consideration at a meeting sponsored by the Kentfield Civic League and Greenbrae Property Owners Assn.

A large delegation from the Del Mesa and Laurel Grove areas was particularly critical of the southern route, which would run the proposed freeway beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Wolfe Grade, then up the hill for a ridge crossing.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen urged the residents to make their wishes known. Anthony C. Bacich, superintendent of Kentfield School District, chaired the meeting.

FIRE

trolled the smouldering area last night and the chief said he will keep a two-man crew with one truck on the scene 24 hours a day until the fire completely burns itself out.

The Marin County Fire Department had 20 men, eight trucks and a bulldozer at the fire. Another bulldozer and operator (the one which fell into the ditch) was loaned by Freeman Construction Co., working on a road to Marincello when the fire broke out.

Sausalito Fire Department sent three trucks and eight men to the fire and would have sent more its its 2,000-gallon tanker, built in 1942, had not stalled with a broken radiator hose on Rodeo Avenue, enroute to the fire.

The Tamalpais Valley Fire Department sent seven men and two trucks. In addition about 30 volunteers from all over the county helped fight the blaze, according to Chief Bloom.

The bomber planes from Santa Rosa dropped four loads of fire-retardant chemicals on the blaze, which was brought under control at 7 p.m.

CRISIS

And on the war front, torrential monsoon rains brought American air and ground action to a virtual halt along the tense demilitarized zone (DMZ) but heavy fighting flared in the Central Highlands and the Mekong Delta where three U.S. helicopters wre shot down.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots were able to launch only 44 missions yesterday against the North—one of the lightest days in months—although the North Vietnamese 324B Army Division was reported ready to strike once the rains started.

Leathernecks, acting to keep the 324B out of the south, pulled out their ponchos in another phase of Operation Prairie that had held off the feared offensive by putting more than 1,000 Communists out of action.

South Vietnamese troops killed 142 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars yesterday in the Central Highlands fighting, but result of the delta battle between two large forces still was not in. It was there the guerrillas shot down the three U.S. helicopters.

While Ky was facing his crisis in Saigon and rain brought the war to a near halt, the U.S. called on North Viet Nam late yesterday to spell out what it would do if U.S. air attacks on the Communist state were called off.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg posed the challenge in the closing minutes of the General Assembly's marathon policy debate which has centered on the war in Viet Nam.

hole," and partially on land leased until the year 2002 to Madden and Lewis, Inc. Herbert Madden, partner in the firm, told the planning commission last week that he was "pretty sure" that 10,000 to 15,000 square feet of land in the leased area designated by the consultants for the library site "will be available to the city." The land is sub-leased to Mac-Marin, operator of the Spinnaker restaurant.

The council asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to begin negotiations to get title for the site. The city could force abandonment of the leased land, Mayor Mel Wax noted, but he said he did "not expect this will be necessary."

Selection of the site also means the city will have to vacate a portion of Railroad Avenue as a city street, Jordan said. On original city maps, the avenue is shown running through the site.

A suggestion by Neil Davis, proprietor of the bar with no name, that the library be on the old Purity store site won no support. The store site would require a two-story library, and the library board wants a one-story building.

Bad Headache, But No Money

An example is the 14-year-old boy who was cited to juvenile authorities yesterday afternoon after he was caught stealing a bottle of aspirin from United Market in San Rafael.

The boy told police he had a headache but no money.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Helen H. Rogers, 78, Dies

Private funeral was held today for Helen H. Rogers, widow of the founder of Webb and Rogers Drugs Store in San Rafael.

Mrs. Rogers, 78, died Saturday of a heart attack at her home at 1309 Nye Street, San Rafael.

Her husband, the late Ralph H. Rogers, established the store in partnership with the late Christopher C. Webb in 1909 and operated it until his death in 1946, at which time Mrs. Rogers took part in the management, remaining active until her retirement in 1964, when she sold her interest in the firm.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hatch, early settlers on the Point Reyes Peninsula, and grew up in Novato, where her father was for many years manager of the Novato Land Co. She was edducated at Dominican Convent in San Rafael.

Mrs. Rogers was a member of the Marin County Historical Society and Marin County Humane Society.

She is survived by two sons, Robert H. and Stuart H. Rogers of San Rafael, and three grandchildren.

Burial was to be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

S. S. KRESGE

EAST STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Sebastian S. Kresge, millionaire chain store owner, died at East Stroudsburg General Hospital last night at the age of 99.

A hospital spokesman said Kresge, who retired as board chairman of the Kresge chain earlier this year, died of infirmities of age. He had been in the hospital since July.

Kresge, once a Pennsylvania Dutch farm boy, will be interred in a $75,000 mausoleum he had built two years ago outside nearby Kresgeville — a town named for the Kresge family.

A company spokesman said all 930 Kresge stores in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico will be closed Friday when funeral services will be held from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Methodist church in Mountainhome, Pa.

Kresge's life was marked by frugality.

"I've never spent more than 30 cents a day for lunch in my life and it hasn't killed me," he once told a newsman.

As a philanthropist, the man who entered the dime store business with $8,000 and left it with more than $200 million contributed up to $65 million to his own foundation.

Kresge was born July 31, 1867, on a farm near Bald Mount, Pa., where, at the age of 14, a neighbor gave him a beehive.

In five years the youngster had five beehives, and gave the profits to his father. During the depression years of the 1890s, Kresge restored rusty stoves and managed to save $8,000.

He invested this in a store with J.G. McCrory in Memphis, Tenn. A year later, they bought a store in Detroit, and in 1899, Kresge traded his share in the Memphis store for complete control of the Detroit branch. This was the beginning of the Kresge chain.

In 1924 Kresge divorced Anna Harvey, whom he married 1897. Kresge's second marriage was to Doris Mercer, an aspiring opera singer, but they were divorced four years later. In October 1928, he married Clara K. Swaine, a divorcee, and the two lived in Mountainhome until Kresge's recent health failure.

ELLEN V. HUEY

Memorial service for Ellen Virginia Huey of San Rafael, who died Monday at her home at 125 Meriam Drive, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Church of the Nativity, San Rafael.

Mrs. Huey, 56, wife of Dr. Clayton S. Huey, was first believed to have died as a result of a fall in her home. The coronor's office, however, today said an autopsy showed Mrs. Huey to have suffered a fatal heart embolism.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Huey is survived by a daughter, Virginia An Gamblin of Plancentia, Orange County, and a son, Douglas Clayton Huey, at Purdue University in Indiana.

CATHERINE FALCONER

Mrs. Catherine B. Falconer, a native of Dundee, Scotland, died in a San Rafael rest home Monday after a short illness. She was 82.

She came to California from her native Scotland, residing in San Francisco for the past 25 years. She was the wife of the late Albert Falconer, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Falconer is survived by a son, John Falconer of San Francisco, and three grandchildren.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Gantner, Felder and Kenny chapel, 1965 Market Street, San Francisco. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

GRACE A. DOLTER

Mrs. Grace A. Dolter, 94, of Mill Valley, died today in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of Rye, N.Y., she lived in San Francisco for about 65 years. She had made her home at 305 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, for 10 years.

She is survived by three grandchildren. Her son was the late Philip A. Dolter of Belvedere.

Funeral will be private.

WALTER J. CONDON

Walter J. Condon, 71, was found dead in his home at 46 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday. Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said he had been dead six or seven days.

A native of San Francisco, Condon had lived 40 years in Marin County. He was a warehouse clerk for Lou Fremmy Co. in San Francisco for 20 years. He was an honorary member of San Francisco Council 615, Knights of Columbus.

The body was sent to Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo for an autopsy.

Roasary will be recited at Chapel of the Hills at 8 p.m. today. Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

MRS. DELLA CAIN

Mrs. Della Cain, widow of the founder of Novato's original electric, telephone and water utility company, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Ella Cain of 916 Sherman Avenue was 78 years old. She had spent nearly 60 years in Novato.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Mausleum entombment will be at Cypress Hills Memorial Park in Petaluma.

Mrs. Cain, with her husband, Albert J. Cain, who died in 1961, owned the Novato Utility Co. The company was founded by Cain in 1906, a year before their marriage in San Francisco.

They sold water from wells, electric power, and operated the telephone exchange.

They sold the electric business to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and the water business to Albert H. Tresch, who later sold it to the North Marin County Water District.

In 1951, they disposed of the third portion of the business, selling the telephone system to Los Gatos Telephone Co., which later became Western California Telephone Co. Until his death, Cain served on the board of directors of Western California Telephone.

Mrs. Cain was born in Edgewood, Siskiyou County.

She was chaplain and a charter member of the Nova Marin member of the Novato Needlework Guild.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Laurence Tresch of Novato and Mrs. William Campbell of Auburn, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

More Consultants Urged For Schools

San Rafael City Schools, with a multi-million dollar operation, should hire outside business and labor relations consultants, according to Mrs. Anita C. Strom, a member of the San Rafael Broard of Education.

Mrs. Strom said at last night's board meeting that no big business is operated "with the loosely-formed organization that school districts have."

She said she has felt the "taxpayer is not directly represented in financial matters. Let's talk salaries, which are 85 per cent of the budget. Who represents the taxpayer at the negotiating table?"

The superintendent cannot be expected to be an educator, financial expert, architect and building expert, she said.

BOARD NOT EXPERTS

Board members are not experts in the field of labor relations and don't have the time to make surveys and compile studies, she continued.

On the other hand, she noted, the California Teachers Assn. has a trained staff of negotiators with facts and figures.

"I think the negotiating table is out of balance," she said. "We should have professional labor relations people who deal with labor and big business."

Mrs. Strom contended that a business consultant would provide continuity in the operation of the schools, "Superintendents come and go, and board members come and go."

CARE URGED

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said board members represent the public, and "Should be careful where they place responsibility."

Mrs. Strom brought up the matter at the close of the session and asked that it be on the agenda for discussion at the next board meeting.

Board members approved a federally financed $56,450 program to provide remedial, corrective and supplementary services for "educationally disadvantaged" kindergarten through eighth grade pupils next year.

TERM DEFINED

Acting Supt. William C. Jordan defined "educationally disadvantaged children" a those who would "be unable to participate totally because of cultural problems."

Mrs. Strom, who has been hesitant to take federal funds, said "I basically disapprove." She voted for the project after assurance that the elementary district could drop the program after a year's trial.

After a presentation by Richard C. Marshall of Marshall and Bowles, San Francisco architects, the board approved final plans for a two-story, six-classroom addition to Coleman School.

The addition is scheduled to be constructed at the southwest corner of the school site, near the intersection of Belle Avenue and Rafael Drive.

The plans provide for a bus turn-around off Belle Avenue, which Marshall said will create a new entrance to the school and alleviate traffic problems along Rafael Drive.

The San Fafael Board of Education also:

1. Called for bids on leasing of surplus district property at Third and E streets for parking to be opened at 10 a.m. Nov. 4.
2. Approved hiring an additional custodian for Bahia Vista School to work four hours a day, after Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte reported that 12 classrooms are being used at the school, more than expected, and there is only one custodian.
3. Granted Las Gallinas Sanitary District two easements across MacPhail School property in Santa Venetia for a fee of $250.
4. Accepted as complete the four-classroom addition to Santa Venetia Middle School constructed by Page Construction Co. of Novato.
5. Confirmed appointment of Mrs. Strom as trustee representative to the Marin County School Boards Assn. Mrs. Strom abstained on the vote.
6. Received a report from Board President Carl J. Brown on a joint meeting with the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission which brought forth the proposal that the school districts allot a certain percentage of their five-cent community services override tax to the recreation program.
7. Hired Barbara Lachelt as part-time biology teacher, high school district, at $1,662 a year; Eugene Oswald, part-time economics teacher, high school district, $1,455; Joseph Machado, custodian, Davidson and Santa Venetial schools, $4,800, and Mrs. LeDean Varner, bus driver, $1,703.
8. Accepted the resignations of Mrs. Glen Harmon, teacher of drama, geography and English at Davidson Junior High School, wife of the former Kentfield School District superintendent, who has moved to Carlsbad, where he is now superintendent, and Mrs. Doris Phillips, bus driver, because of home duties.
9. Granted Albert Gautraud, chairman of social studies department, Terra Linda High School, sabattical leave for the 1967-68 school year to study the history, culture, customs and contemporary problems of Asian, African and Middle Eastern countries, and granted Marilyn Werre, teacher at Gallinas School, leave for the fall semester because of family illness.
10. Proposed the following textbooks for adoption: "Southeast Asia Today and Tomorrow" by Richard Butwell; "The Arabs: A Short History" by Philip K. Hitti; "The Asians" by Thomas Welty, and "Applied Economics" by Arthur R. Olsen, John W. Kennedy and James Harvey Dodd.
11. Took no action on a resolution from the Marin County Board of Education requesting that the California School Boards Assn. revise voting procedures to reflect proportional representation rather than the present one-member, one-vote concept.
12. Received a letter from the faculty at Oliver R. Hartzell School thanking the board for initiating the noon supervision program which gives teachers a duty-free lunch hour.

Airport Leasing Issues Studied

Members of the Marin County Aviation Commission last night debated best rates for leases of airport facilities, discussing a county fee based on percentage of income as opposed to a flat fee.

In the end, the commission asked to see more sample leases from other airports on such things as tiedown facilities and oil and gasoline service.

James Roberts of the county public works department reported the commission also asked county counsel review of a proposed airport ordinance.

Fewer Americans Committing Suicide

NEW YORK (UPI) —Atomic jitters and space age tensions, or not, fewer Americans are killing themselves these days than 25 years ago, according to writer John Brooks in his new book, "The Great Leap."

Brooks says that in 1940 there were 14.4 suicides per 100,000 population. Since 1945 the rate has stayed close to 11.2, he says, deducing from this that "we can stand the strain of living in the nuclear age, with its threat of extinction, better than might be expected."

Ramparts Editor Tolls Requiem For Film God

By CAROL MARSH

God is dead, Edward Keating, publisher of Ramparts magazine, told students at the College of Marin yesterday — but he meant Clark Gable.

He was not getting involved in the current theological debate. His topic was "The American Way of Violence." He told students that the Hollywood era of "stars" was an example of the cause and effect of the American way of violence, but it is over and Americans may be looking for a different way.

He said the nation was founded on violence by the oppressed of Europe, and was held together by violence in the Civil War. He said Americans have done violence to the land, violence to the truth, and violence to each other.

"We have no mythology. We had to become uniquely ourselves, and we did. We made our own gods—in Hollywood."

These movie star gods, he said, were bigger than life, immortal. "Clark Gable was called 'The King.' The nation went into mourning when Rudolph Valentino died."

The mythology embodied in the movies was sentimental, anti-intellectual, racist, puritanical, and "incredibly violent," he said. "Everything was so simple. There was us, the good guys, and everyone else. And the answer to any problem was violence."

But that mythology and those gods are dead, he said, killed by new gods of television who are "smaller than life."

And the American way of life is changing. "The old gods didn't work, and we're looking for new answers," he said.

"Things are not black and white any longer. A lot of people are unsure that genocide is the way to bring freedom and independence to Viet Nam. People are becoming aware of poverty. The American Negro is becoming visible. Americans could not understand non-violence, but they understand black power, because they had white power for 300 years. Of course they don't like it. . . .

"Now that the means exists for total destruction, people are beginning to look to some answer besides force. I think we are going to have to go past the age of gods and mythologies and look for an answer in justice, mercy, and co-operation.

Book Fair Saturday

A sale of good used books, called a "book fair,' will be held Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m., at the downtown shopping center next to Long's Drug Store in Novato, sponsored by the Women's Assn. of the Novato Presbyterian Church to raise money for the church's parking lot paving fund, according to Mrs. Earl Farris, chairman.

East Bay Teen-Ager Found Asleep In Car

A 14-year-old Pittsburgh boy was found asleep, wrapped in a blanket, in a 1960 Ford with an empty gasoline tank near the Greenbrae interchange last night.

He was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall by Officer Robert Barzone of the California Highway Patrol.

The car was registered to Jose M. Soria of Pittsburg, who reported it missing yesterday.

Sausalito Readies Ban On Disorderly Conduct

Sausalito City Council last night gave first reading to a disorderly conduct ordinance recommended by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins.

The ordinance was in response to complaints in recent months by many residents about continuous bongo drumming in Vina del Mar Plaza and skate boarding on streets and sidewalks. The chief convinced the council to adopt the over-all ordinance rather than legislate against individual acts as they occur.

The ordinance makes it unlawful in any public place or place open to public view or patronage to make rude, obscene or insulting remarks or gestures to any person; to engage in or instigate any quarrel, fight, riot-out or disorderly conduct; to crowd or obstruct any public way as to unreasonably interfere with free and uninterrupted passage, and to cause any deliberate disturbance by a loud continuous noise, regardless of the source of such noise.

The council rejected the chief's request that no juvenile be allowed in a new billiard parlor at 1417-19 Bridgeway. Kreins had argued that juvenile delinquency problems have been traced to pool halls in Hayward, where he last served, but the council granted a use permit for the parlor on condition that no one under 18 years be admitted after 10 p.m.

The council limited the hours of operation of the parlor to 8 a.m. to 2 a.m., and stipulated that no food may be cooked on the premises. Over the objections of Alex Liu, operator of the parlor, the council also required that he plant eight street trees, four on Bridgeway and four on Litho Street.

Sausalito City Council also:

1. Directed City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to take legal steps to require Nuncio Alioto of 14 Alexander Street to apply for a zoning permit for his television antenna, which neighbors say obstructs their view of the bay.

2. Set a hearing on Nov. 1 for Robert D. Lewis, owner of Cable Television of Marin, to explain why he does not have insurance required by his franchise agreement with the city.

3. Accepted a $5,208 bid by Cagwin and Dorward of San Rafael for playground equipment at Langendorf Park. There was no other bid on the final phase of improvement of the park.

4. Confirmed Mayor Mel Wax's re-appointment of Mrs. Sanford Autumn, Glenn R. Peterson and Walter Guthrie to the community appearance advisory board. Board member Roy Starbird asked not to be reappointed.

5. Extended the deadline to April, 1967, for filing of final subdivision reports for Sausalito del Mar Associates subdivision Units 1, 2 and 3.

6. Directed Public Works Supervisor Norman Wohlschlaeger to install a removable redwood barrier at Tiffany Beach to prevent cars from driving on the beach.

7. Heard from consulting engineer Beverly J. Whitlow that the city's allocation of $70,065 in county funds to widen Bridgeway will be available until next June 30.

8. Increased the city health insurance appropriation by $154 a month to provide full hospital coverage for 50 employees.

9. Deferred to Nov. 1 action on a report by Kreins on parking problems on Cable Roadway.

10. Asked Jordan to prepare a resolution urging the county board of supervisors to expedite annexation of Marincello to Marin Municipal Water District.

11. Commended police officer Kevin Sharp for his rescue of an Army captain Friday night in a fire at the Ardillo apartments above Waldo Point.

12. Asked Kreins to investigate complaints that the Trident restaurant had installed loudspeakers on its outdoor deck.

Route 17 Plan Draws Protest

About 80 Lucas Valley residents last night attended a State Division of Highways presentation of proposed routes for Highway 17, an east-west freeway crossing the center of the county.

Jack G. Nixon, president of the Marinwood Assn., a sponsor of the session at the Marinwood Recreation Center, declared it was obvious from the questioning that Lucas Valley residents are generally opposed to a route through Lucas Valley, one of four being considered.

Nixon said today he has appointed an evaluation committee which will probably circulate a petition opposing the route.

Auto Theft Reported

Luther Porter of 804 Fourth Street, San Rafael, told police that his 1955 Oldsmobile was stolen yesterday from a parking space on Fifth Avenue near Tamalpais Avenue.

East Bay Arrests Linked To Marin Area Burglaries

The arrest of two men in San Leandro may have solved a series of recent burglaries in Marin County in which nearly $7,500 in television sets were stolen, San Rafael police reported today.

In custody at Alameda County's Santa Rita Prison are Robert Bustillos and William Bragg, both East Bay residents.

Bragg has served time for burglary, according to San Rafael Police Inspector Thomas Cheetham, who said both men are wanted for safe cracking in Napa and on a narcotics charge in Oakland.

They were picked up yesterday, Cheetham said, during the burglary of a San Leandro television store.

The inspector said he would seek warrants today for their arrest in connection with the Sept. 21 and Oct. 3 burglaries of Jim and Ken's Television at 1110 Grant Avenue, Novato, in which 21 sets worth $5,000 were taken. They will also be charged, Cheetham said, with the $2,450 burglary of Westland TV at 1535 Fourth Street, San Rafael on Sept. 24, when 12 sets and a transistor radio were stolen.

Cheetham said he interviewed the suspects yesterday and has "enough evidence for a warrant."

Lack Of Quorum

Because of a lack or a quorum, a board of directors meeting of the Boys Club of Novato scheduled last night, was postponed until 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the club headquarters in the Roberts and Aguirre Building at Grant Avenue at Seventh Street, Novato.

Senator Calls For Modern Tax Structure

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, today called for modernizating the tax structure "by making it more definite which area of government has what taxing powers."

"The tendency in local government is to look to the state for financial handouts, and the state looks to the federal government in the same way. The result, short range, is that everyone is taxing the same people for the same purpose in the same way. The result, long range, is further concentration of government in Washington," he declared.

He said such levies as the income tax, sales tax, gift tax, inheritance tax and other one-time taxes "should be parcelled out as exclusive sources for various levels of government."

"This," he reasoned, "should bring both tax reductions in property tax, and an adjustment important categories such as the of revenues that could save us from some tax increases."

Walker Creek Study Application Approved

North Marin County Water District board last night approved a joint application with the Marin County Soil Conservation District to the state for a grant for a study of Walker Creek.

The board authorized Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager, to renegotiate the leases on 140 acres of district grazing land at Stafford Lake with George Grossi and David Lavaroni, who have leased the land for many years.

Life Of A Sheriff's Deputy—Perilous One

Life of a sheriff's deputy is full of perils, as evidenced by the agenda for tomorrow's meeting of the Marin County Safety Commission.

Accidents suffered by deputies outnumber those of all other county departments.

The commission meeting, a monthly session for review of employee accidents, will begin at 8 a.m. at Civic Center.

Deputies get little warning in some accidents. Deputies Gary J. Bartolotti, 24, and Raymond L. Von Savoye, 32, called to assist Sausalito police in arrest of a wife-beating suspect, were on either side of the suspect's car, talking through the open doors. The suspect allegedly threw the car in reverse, dragging both deputies backward.

Also up for review is the gun wound suffered by Deputy William Keaton July 31 during a scuffle at the Prince Charlie Inn in Tiburon. Keaton this week was suspended by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos for five days for falsely reporting himself sick and unable to work.

City Aide Hired

Bail At $2,100 On Bad Check Counts In Marin

A San Rafael woman was held on bail totaling $2,100 at Marin County jail today on charges of check forgery and writing fictitious checks.

Mary Ann Gilbert, 42, also known as Martha Ann Marquis, 6 Surrey Lane, San Rafael, was arrested by Corte Madera police yesterday at the W. J. Gilbert Carpet store at Town and Country Village Shopping Center.

Police said checks totaling at least $1,014 in the name of Gilbert, and checks of at least $56 in the name of Marquis, were written on at least 12 different Bay Area banks where Mrs. Gilbert had small accounts but not enough to cover the checks.

Mrs. Gilbert had driver's licenses in both names in her purse when arrested. In addition to the charges filed by Corte Madera police, San Mateo police have placed a hold on her.

WHERE'S THE ACCENT PLACED ON MARINITE?

A resident of Marin is called a Marinite, but the question is, how do you pronounce it?

The question was posed in a postcard sent county supervisors by Emil Sekerak, education director of the Consumer Cooperative in Berkeley, soon to establish a new store in Marin.

"Is the accent on the first syllable, the second or some other or none?" Sekerak asked.

Supervisors have not yet taken up the question. It will probably first be referred to the county staff.

$10,200 Grant To Mar School

A federal grant of $10,200 for development of a small group teaching program for "educationally deprived" children in Larkspur School District has been authorized. Supt. Milton Cohen reported today.

He said the program will begin Nov. 1 for about 25 children, and will eventually include about 60.

Three teachers will be hired to teach the children from 4 to 6 p.m. Those to participate will be chosen after tests to determine which students need extra help in basic subjects.

Youth Leads Police On Chase

A 17-year-old San Rafael boy was booked into juvenile hall for numerous traffic violations and aiding a runaway after leading police on a high-speed auto chase over San Rafael streets, Highway 101 and streets in Corte Madera yesterday.

Police said the boy and his passenger, a runaway San Rafael boy, were seen in San Rafael and chased, sometimes at double the speed limit, to Meadowsweet Drive in Corte Madera.

His speeding car on Meadowsweet reportedly sent two Corte Madera boys on bicycles pedaling into a ditch at the side of the road. When the car was stopped, the driver surrendered, but the runaway got away, police reported.

Aht is the name given to a confederacy of 22 tribes of North American Indians of the Wakashan stock now settled on the west coast of Vancouver, B.C.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB

ITALIAN STYLE (AGNELLO AL FORNO)

You will need:

5 to 6 lb. leg of lamb
Sliced garlic
⅓ cup olive oil
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon dried rosemary
¼ teaspoon pepper

Set out shallow roasting pan with rack. Wipe lamb with a clean, damp cloth. Do not remove fell (thin, papery covering). Cut several small slits in surface. In each insert a slice of garlic. Place lamb skin-side down, on rack in pan. Insert roast meat thermometer in center of the thickest part of meat, being sure the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Brush meat with olive oil and sprinkle with grated lemon peel. Combine and sprinkle over the meat the salt, rosemary and pepper. Roast uncovered at 300° about 3 hours, allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Meat is medium done when roast meat thermometer reaches 175°F and well done at 180°F. Serve on warm platter. About 10 servings.

County Mental Health Plan Critics Nettle Leydecker

Byron W. Leydecker, chairman of Marin County Board of Supervisors, was visibly irritated yesterday at critics who saw "bogey men under the bed" in the board's handling of mental health services.

Supervisors were debating letters from three doctors who questioned a suggestion by the county administrator's office that Dr. Michael D. Scholl, county medical officer, be made top man of mental health services, the post now held by Dr. Clyde G. Miller.

The administrator's office suggested Dr. Miller's job be phased out of existence with establishment of the Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital, a county-hospital district project.

Board members took no further action yesterday but preferred to await a report from the mental health advisory board, which had been handed the proposal last week for study.

Leydecker was annoyed at what he called "pulling and hauling" within the community over mental health administration.

He recalled that when he first came to the community he had been subject to "fantastic pressures."

"I think we got too much advice. This is not the way to progress. Someone has to make decisions. We only can resolve conflicts within the community at this level," said Leydecker.

Letters from Doctors Seymour Boorstein, Philip S. Hicks and Joseph P. Gutstadt stated, in effect, support for Dr. Miller and indicated indirect services through the proposed program should be headed by a person with psychiatric background.

The letters were not read to the meeting.

Mrs. Trude Baum, a member of the Marin Assn. for Mental Health, said the present structure of the program had been formed after "agonizing debate" and no change should be made without the board considering the implications on the community.

Leydecker said the board had no intention of losing its authority over policy making. Marin General Hospital had been contracted for the service because it had the facilities and "a procedure that works," he said.

He added: "We have said this often and clearly enough. But there are always some people who are so bound up in personalities or have no confidence in what has been said."

As for the letters, Leydecker said they were evidently from people who saw "some bogey man under the bed" where he said none existed.

Hamilton Doesn't See Any Trip Home Soon

PARIS (AP) — George Hamilton, in Europe filming a movie, says it's "very unlikely" he'll be back in the United States during the next three and one-half months.

Hamilton, who has been the No. 1 escort of President Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, said in Paris, "I am under contract to stay here. They have me insured. And it would be troublesome from the insurance point of view if I got on an airplane."

Sheriff Donates Raffle Winnings

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Maurice Joseph, sheriff of St. Clair County, Ill., has donated $3,000 to charity. It is part of the money he received from the sale of two cars he won in a raffle before initiating a gambling crackdown last summer.

Joseph won the cars at a Knights of Columbus picnic in East St. Louis, Ill., in July after he had been given the tickets for subscribing to an ad in the picnic program.

He donated $1,500 each yesterday to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis, Mo., and St. John's Roman Catholic Orphanage in Belleville.

Police Without Slaying Leads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police, looking for "a sadistic killer" who bludgeoned prominent theologian and civil rights leader Dr. Robert W. Spike to death, say they have no substantial leads.

Detective Capt. Tom Sawyer, reporting no solid clues in the Monday slaying, said, "It's surprising. There were 10,000 students walking around this place and no one is coming up with anything."

Dr. Spike's body, clad only in a raincoat, was found on the floor of a guest room at a new religious center just off the Ohio State University campus.

Divers going to great depths in the ocean can safely breathe a mixture of helium and oxygen gasses. Helium replaces the nitrogen of ordinary air, which becomes toxic at high pressures.

Lines Can't Berth Because Of Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — The translantic liners Queen Elizabeth and the France were among 12 big ships unable to berth here today because of a strike by tug crews.

The 83,000-ton Queen Elizabeth headed for Cherbourg. The France went to Le Havre. Their passengers were expected by channel ferries later today.

Reed Trustees Hear Sad Report: Students Increase

Reed School District can expect an enrollment increase of 600 children in the next five years, and existing facilities cannot accommodate them, district trustees were told last night by Mervin Field, chairman of the district's building and finance study committee.

Trustees extended the deadline for the committee until next Jan. 15 for a final report which will include a study of financing methods for expected classroom needs through 1971.

Judy Wheatley and Mrs. Audrey Ward were appointed to replace Mary Kay Healy and Mrs. Evelyn Elliott as members of the community staff facility study committee.

Minister Flays Welfare System

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The public welfare system is designed to perpetuate itself and to keep the poor in helpless bondage, the West Coast Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Assn. was told yesterday.

Rev. James Edward Jones, a member of the McCone Commission that studied the Watts riots in Los Angeles, said the welfare system is able to get money to help the poor but does not try to find out how to end the programs of aid.

Welfare programs in their present state, he said, "are just modern day slavery." Reverend Mr. Jones, a Negro, is pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles.

In Fair Condition

Beverly Hope Tanzi, 41, of 215 Bayview Street, Apt. 309, San Rafael, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after she called a neighbor to report she took an overdose of pills, San Rafael police said.

No Funds, So Robber Flees

Station attendant Michael Cunningham, 18, of 33 Grove Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, told police he had just opened the station at 6:30 a.m. when a man with a white cloth tied over his hair pulled out a pistol in the station office and demanded money.

Cunningham opened the cash drawer to show the thief that it was empty, and the man left, he said. Cunningham described the thief as being 40 to 45 years old, about five feet, 10 inches tall, weighing 175 pounds and wearing a dark sweater and light slacks.

Tomales Hires Firm To Inspect School

Tomales Bay School district board Monday night hired the firm of Akol and Associates of San Francisco to inspect the old Tomales Elementary School building.

Built before 1933, it must be inspected for its conformity to earthquake-resistance provisions of the Field Act, according to a recent attorney general's opinion.

The board decided to give up possession of the unused Marshall School and authorized the county counsel to draw up papers to give the building back to the Kleiser Estate, reported principal David Raffo. The original school deed provided that if the building ceased to be used for school purposes, it should revert to the estate.

The board authorized Raffo to have an appraisal made of the Bloomfield School property. An election is scheduled for Nov. 1 in the Bloomfield area on creation of a community services district which would purchase the school and keep it for a community center.

The Tomales elementary school district board also:

1. Approved interdistrict agreement to take four more students from the American Valley District. That district has voted to merge with the Tomales next July 1, and all American Valley students are attending the Tomales school this year under interdistrict agreements.

2. Granted a leave of absence until Dec. 31 to Mrs. Ruth Weirich, third grade teacher, because of ill health. Mrs. Joan Mitchell is substituting for her.

3. Appointed a salary committee composed of board members Lois Parks and Merle Lawson, teachers, Miriam Matthews and Katherine Manley and Raffo.

4. Authorized Raffo to act for the board in applying for library books under the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Homecoming Crowning Set Friday

Chosen for her spirit and beauty, one of eight Sir Francis Drake High School Spirit Queen nominees will reign over the Drake-San Rafael football game Friday and the Saturday homecoming dance.

Varsity football players selected eight nominees — Gayle Alderson, Vicky Lilienthal, Robyn McKinley, Karen Mickleson, Marianne Mitchell, Missy Rainey, Leslie Travis and Sue Wells.

To promote enthusiasm, class competition is being introduced. Today, each corridor was a class to be decorated "in the most original and spirited way possible," said Kim Evje, student body song leader.

The "nine bravest" Drake football players were to be auctioned at a "slave auction" during noon hour today with receipts to go to Drake's sister school in Mexico.

Tomorrow is "Green and White Day," with the pep band to escort the student body to a rally in the gymnasium to promote spirit for the game.

Yes, Texas Once Had Her Navy Long Ago

DALLAS (UPI) —From 1836 to 1843 Texas had a navy which sailed the Gulf of Mexico.

The Texas Navy was put up for auction in 1843, but the people of Galveston forcibly prevented submission of bids. Three years later, the navy, four vessels strong, was transferred to the U.S. Navy.

Gina's Marriage Comes To An End

ROME (AP) — The parting of the ways for Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida, 38, and her Yugoslav-born husband, Dr. Milko Skofic, comes next Monday.

Lawyers for the couple said the couple would appear then before a civil tribunal to ask for an order pronouncing their separation by mutual consent.

The couple has been married for 15 years. There is no divorce in Italy.

A Rolex Oyster is waterproof to an ocean depth of 165 feet, but it's a lot more than waterproof. It takes shocks like no other watch can. It stands extremes of heat and cold without flinching. It's a big watch, a hefty watch. It's the one fine watch you can really live with. An unforgettable gift, too.

PICKETS PROTEST ALLEGED POLICE BRUTALITY

About eight pickets demonstrate in San Francisco's Civic Center Plaza against alleged police brutality in the fatal shooting last month of Matthew Johnson, 16. Patrolman Alvin Johnson was suspended indefinitely from the police force after he shot the Negro teen-ager, who was fleeing from a stolen car. The incident touched off two days of riots in the Hunters Point area. The pickets said yesterday they were members of a "concerned citizens" committee. (UPI Telephoto)

Tribunal Review Will Delay Railroad Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The U.S. Supreme Court will review the protection given six competing railroads in the pending merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads into a $6 billion corporate behemoth.

The review, agreed to yesterday, will delay the merger—the largest in U.S. corporate history—for at least three months. Hearings are to open Jan. 9. The merger had been set for Nov. 1.

PROTEST RESPONSE

The court acted in response to protests from the six rail lines, eight communities and a political candidate that the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) had not properly safeguarded their interests.

The main plaintiffs in the case have attacked hte ICC's provisions for protection of their ability to compete, saying the provisions are inadequate. They do not seek to stop the merger permanently.

The two biggest rail lines protesting recently completed mergers to form the Chesapeake & Ohio-Baltimore & Ohio, and the Norfolk & Western-Nickel Plate.

The protest came to the Supreme Court on an appeal from a New York federal court order of Oct. 4 refusing to halt the merger. That litigation already had delayed the consolidation.

The ICC approved the merger last spring to become effective Oct. 1. When several smaller railroads and affected communities went to court, the Oct. 1 merger was blocked. But the lines were ready to consummate the the merger on Nov. 1 after the New York ruling.

The Supreme Court decided a closer look was needed of the handling of the case. A key question raised by the plaintiffs was whether the ICC acted properly in agreeing to allow such a giant merger to take place without all the conditions being precisely fixed.

REFUSES STAY

The ICC agreed to hear objections by affected railroads and others to certain merger conditions, such as indemnities to be paid them, but refused to stay the marriage itself.

The commission has set hearings beginning Oct. 31 on requests for greater protection.

Syria Begins Voluntary Recruiting

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government began recruiting civilians today for a volunteer defense army against Israel, but diplomatic sources reported it also has given private assurances it will try to halt terrorist commando raids into Israel.

Guerrilla raids by Assifa — Forces of the Tempest — commandos based in Syria have sparked a debate in the U.N. Security Council and threats and counterthreats by Israel and Syria that the border tension could plunge the Middle East into war.

Diplomatic sources here said the assurances that Syria would try to curb the raids came only a day after Syrian Premier Youssef Zayyen declared Oct. 11 that Syria had no intention of curbing the commandos.

U.S. Sees Bank Run As Isolated Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials foresee little, if any, disruption of international financing as a result of the run on the Intra Bank at Beirut, Lebanon.

In fact, they view it as nothing more than an isolated, old-fashioned run on a bank and with absolutely no connection with the U. S. balance of payments program or high interest rates in this country.

The Intra Bank, one of the major financial institutions of the Middle East with assets of about $230 million, closed last Saturday after a run of withdrawals. Subsequently 93 banks and the Lebanon stock market also were closed.

The run was confined to the one bank — a factor U. S. officials saw as proof that this country's policies had nothing to do with the matter. If U. S. balance of payments policies or interest rates had been involved, one official said, other banks undoubtedly would have been affected.

U. S. officials could give no exact reason for the run but said it apparently stemmed from withdrawals from the Intra Bank by oil-rich Kuwait, presumably in Lebanese pounds.

Guilty Verdict Given On Drunken Driving

A Marin Municipal Court jury yesterday found Arnold M. Cooper, 52, guilty of drunken driving last Aug. 24.

Cooper, of 5 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield, was arrested by Larkspur police on Magnolia Avenue. Judgment by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. is at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Half Of Montreal Dark; Fuses Blow

MONTREAL (AP) — An overloaded circuit blew fuses in dozens of power stations today and blacked out half the Montreal metropolitan area for 50 minutes.

The overload occurred on a 300,000-volt transmission line between Quebec City and Montreal. Sixteen Montreal power stations were affected.

Woman Treated For Pill Overdose

Mrs. Sharon Rae Benham, 24, of 1113 First Street, Novato, was treated at Novato Hospital last night after taking an overdose of nitroglycerin pills, according to Novato police.

Mrs. Benham was rushed to the hospital by her husband, Donald Ralph Benham, 28, who said he found his wife dazed when he returned home at 7 p.m.

Kudamona No Degaata Full Fruit Cocktail, Blueberries

"Kudamona No Degaata," the elegant dessert served to 700 at the cling peach luncheon during the recent American Home Economics convention in San Francisco is our general release for this month.

KUDAMONA NO DEGAATA

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup blueberries, fresh or frozen
2 eggs
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup sugar
Dash salt
1 cup milk
¼ cup brandy
Vanilla ice cream
Grated unsweetened chocolate

Drain fruit cocktail saving ½ cup syrup. Stir 2 tablespoons sugar into ¼ cup fruit cocktail syrup. Pour over blueberries and add to drained fruit cocktail. Separate 1 egg. Beat egg white stiff. Set aside. Beat one whole egg with one yolk, using wire whip beat in flour, sugar, salt and remaining ¼ cup fruit cocktail syrup. Scald milk and gradually beat into egg mixture stirring constantly over hot water until thickened. Remove from heat and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Stir in brandy. Chill. To serve: Place about ½ cup soft ice cream in bottom of 10 ounce glass. Add ⅓ cup fruit cocktail mixture, ¼ cup cream sauce and ½ teaspoon grated chocolate.

Makes 10 servings.

Large Meat Cuts Produce Two Meals

Large cuts of meat can provide that big dinner and a plus: the smaller, somewhat different meal. If the purchase is a leg of lamb, a beef rib roast or a pork loin, have the retailer remove a few chops or steaks. You'll have a broiled dinner and a roast for the big, company dinner!

After The Halloween Parade Stir Up 'Wonderful Punch'

After the Halloween Parade, let all the witches park their brooms in your driveway, and stir up a Simply Wonderful punch in the big iron cauldron. Pour it with a lavish hand into tall glasses or fat mugs, and pass around with a big tray of warm cinnamon doughnuts or plump raisin cookies.

Halloween is a good time for a family party, where Mom and Dad and all the kids share the same shivery fun. Ghost stories and spooky tales of the supernatural are especially good washed down with Simply Wonderful Punch that's packed with the full flavor of sun-ripened fruit and the creamy richness of ice cream.

SIMPLY WONDERFUL

1 can Apricot or Apricot-Pineapple Nectar (chilled)
¼ cup lemon juice
½ cup Maraschino cherry juice
1 cup ginger ale (chilled)
2 Tbsp. honey
1 pint vanilla ice cream
2 Tbsp. Maraschino cherries, sliced (for topping)

Blend all ingredients, except cherries, in blender or with beater.

Pour into punch bowl or individual glasses.

An Orange Salad For Halloween's Trick Or Treaters

Trick or treaters will appreciate the dressing on this salad.

Roast Lamb Oven Potatoes
Green Peas Orange Salad
Coffee Gelatin Beverage

ORANGE SALAD

Salad greens
Oranges
Buttermilk Dressing

Arrange salad greens on a platter. Peel oranges so no white membrane remains; slice into rounds and arrange on greens. Serve with Buttermilk Dressing: Mix together ½ cup buttermilk, 1 teaspoon each sugar and red wine vinegar, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ to ½ teaspoon basil and a dash of salt and white pepper. Refrigerate any leftover dressing in tightly covered jar.

Olive Pizza Pie Creates Party Treat

Invite the teen-age crowd to a Halloween party and "treat" them with a new and different ripe olive pizza pie. There's no need to be concerned about the pizza dough, since the crust for this fork-and-knife variety is made with rice and cheese. The toppings of salami and ripe olives are among the most popular pizza toppings in California — the home of canned ripe olives. Canned pizza sauce goes over all. To emphasize the orange and black color scheme, top the pie with Cheddar cheese. Create your own jack-o-lantern face with ripe olives. A bowl of contrasty carrot curls and whole or pitted ripe olives carry out the color scheme and are great for nibbling.

HALLOWEEN RIPE OLIVE PIE

½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups water
2 teaspoons chicken stock base
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup rice
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
1 egg
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
¼ poundthinly sliced salami
1 (No. 1) tall can pitted ripe olives
1 (6-ounce) can pizza sauce

Cook onion lightly in butter. Add water, chicken stock base, salt and rice. Heat to boiling. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid absorbed. Stir in 1 cup cheese and lightly beaten egg. Turn into buttered 11-inch pizza pan. Sprinkle with green pepper. Cover with salami. Reserve ¼ cup whole olives for top. Coarsely chop remaining olives and sprinkle over salami. Top with pizza sauce and remaining cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, until cheese is melted. Use remaining olives to make jack-o-lantern face. Makes about 6 servings.

Potroast Variation With Pickle Juice

Looking for a variation in potroasts? Use the juice from dill pickles (¼ cup) with an equal amount of water as the braising liquid. Add 1 teaspoon of dill seed to point up the flavor. These amounts will be sufficient for a 3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast.

SET THE party mood with a decorative Halloween centerpiece surrounding a witch's cauldron of bubbling brew and this ripe olive pizza pie. Create your own jack-o-lantern face with ripe olives. For the "trick" drop pieces of dry ice into a kettle of warm water.

GOBLIN FRANKS

Brew Up 'Cauldron' Treats—

Who-o-o wants to be caught napping on Halloween? Friendly Jack O'Lantern is watching your plans. Include typical foods that spell Halloween.

HALLOWEEN GARNISHES

Celery Brooms — Trim roots and cut off leaves of celery; separate stalks and wash. Cut into 4-in. lengths. Taper narrow end for broom handle. Cut other end into many fine strips, 1 in. long, for brush part. Chill in ice and water until brush strips separate.

Cheese Pumpkins — Grate sharp Cheddar cheese and mold into small pumpkin-shape balls. With fork or blunt end of wooden skewer, mark grooves or sides of "pumpkin." Insert strip of green pepper into top for stems.

Black Cats — Soften chocolate wafer candies by placing them on top of hot cupcakes (just removed from oven.) Wafer forms body of cat. With wooden pick, draw tail, head, ears and whiskers using melted chocolate from body.

Chemical Test For Pregnancy Revealed When Patent Granted

WASHINGTON (SS) — The first disclosure of a simple, inexpensive chemical test for pregnancy came here this week when the U.S. Patent Office granted patent 3,278,270.

The purely chemical method for detecting pregnancy has been tested so far on 8,000 women. It is 95 to 97 per cent accurate, an improvement of some five per cent over the most accurate method now in use.

The chemical pregnancy test should emerge from the clinical research stage to the market within one or two years. The test is hopefully the forerunner of one that any woman could use at any time in her own home to determine whether or not she could conceive on that day.

Although the pregnancy detection method will be available only to doctors at first, it is hoped to make it available to the public in kit form soon after that. In both cases the test is registered under the trade name, "Am I?" Cost is estimated to be one-eighth of a cent each.

MANY CHEMICAL compounds can be used to make the pregnancy test. The results are in several ways, including color, cloudiess or heat, depending on the chemical used. Being able to feel the heat generated by the chemical reaction means that blind persons can detect a reaction with the same accuracy as the sighted.

The most accurate and the most easily-detectable results are obtained when pyran aldetyde, dihydro pyran, dihydro furan or some of their chemical relatives are used. The preferred method is to add the testing compound to a tube containing urine from the woman who wants to know whether or not she is pregnant.

IF THERE IS a color, precipitation or heat reaction, the woman is pregnant. No reaction indicates no pregnancy.

The test is most accurate during the second and third months after conception. The method was developed by Eric T. Fossel, who is a graduate student in organic chemistry at Yale University. Mr. Fossel assigned patent rights to Unimed, Inc., Morristown, N.J.

As in all other pregnancy tests, only when a baby is born, or aborted, is the method counted as accurate. Hospitals cooperating in the clinical study are all on the East Coast.

Now that the patent on the chemical test method has been granted, medical journals are expected to publish results of the clinical experiments within six months.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

The Couple Who Came To Dinner? They Wind Up All But Living In

DEAR HELEN:

My husband's folks cannot be made welcome in our home because they wind up almost living in. They come any time, stay for meals without invitation. Occasionally this would be fine, but five or six times a week?

Several times his mother has arrived before breakfast, leaves after dinner, and I must cancel my plans for the day or take her with me. No advance notice—they just appear!

I've tried making them feel less welcome, and they took the hint once: didn't come over for several months, which covered me with guilt, as my husband is very kind to MY folks. So I had them all over for dinner—and now it's the same old problem of "unwanted guests" again.

I don't want to be selfish or mean, but we have two children under 18 months old, and a tight budget. How can I reach a compromise?—FAGGED AND FLAT

DEAR F AND F:

Retaliation might work, unless your in-laws are purely communal and love this sort of "togetherness." Drop in on them before they get the drop on you, and keep it up for a month. You'll be just as fagged (with all that travel and talk) but at least not as flat.

If you don't think they'll catch the hint, then try the baby-sitting gamut. Ask your uninvited "full-time" guests to "take care of the kids tomorrow while I go out—I'll bring them first thing in the morning." They may cut down!

And if you still haven't found the key, do what you should have done in the first place: have your husband tell his folks a young mother needs her rest, and for the present (doctor's orders perhaps) visiting must be by invitation only!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband has been employed on this particular job for a month. He is smarter than the other men in his department and knows more about the work, so, naturally, they are jealous. He tries to be friendly but they act like they own the company and do things to get him in trouble.

He has gone to the boss and tried to straighten them out, but they deny everything and now my husband is considered the trouble maker. They push the work on him and take the credit, but he won't let these stupid shirkers get away with it.

This isn't the first time. He has quit jobs before, due to the dirty deals he has got, and the upstaging, just because he has brains. Why must people act so big?—MRS. ETY

DEAR MRS. Y:

Why indeed? Perhaps your husband's co-workers are asking this too.

If "it isn't the first time" then my I.G.A.P. (I'm Guessing Again Perception) says he should leave off criticism and perfectionism and aim those brains toward one goal: "Know thyself!"—H.

P.S. A man isn't upstaged because he has brains—unless he flaunts them.

DEAR HELEN:

I outfitted our seven-year-old daughter for school, and when I added up the expenditures I was flabbergasted to learn I had spent over $200 and am still not finished. I spent $26 for a storm coat and $32 for a Sunday dress coat, which shows my price range. We have only one child and our net income after taxes is about $1,000 a month.

I like to buy everything at the first of the year so outfits can be mixed and matched and I shop carefully. Yet my husband says I've been too extravagant. I am wondering, Helen, what others in my income bracket spend on clothing for a child in the pigtail set, and is my daughter's budget out of line?—MRS. R.M.

DEAR MRS. M:

You could outfit a seven-year-old for much less—as my correspondents will tell you, but a $12,000 a year income makes the expenditure—well, if not reasonable, at least not a disaster.

As for outfitting your child all at once at the first of the season, it usually saves neither time nor money. You either miss out on mid-winter and spring sales, or, more likely, you succumb to them, as all those new things begin to look mighty old in a few months.

So why knock yourself cold on the frantic September scramble? Buy as you need, say I, and the bills won't give your husband the October miseries.—H.

IN SEARCH OF UNDERSTANDING

David and Lisa, award winning film in which Janet Margolin and Keir Dullea portray emotionally disturbed children who help each other come to grips with reality, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at Mill Valley's Sequoia Theater for the benefit of the Ross Psychiatric Center.

Piano, Cello Benefit Set On Nov. 7

Pianist Adolph Baller and cellist Gabor Rejto will present their third annual concert to benefit the Maurice Wilk Memorial Scholarship at 8 p.m. Nov. 7 at Dominican College, San Rafael.

The scholarship for piano, violin, cello, or voice was established by the two musicians of the Alma Trio in memory of their late colleague, Maurice Wilk, violinist of the trio until his death in 1963.

The benefit program will include Bach's Sonata in D Major, Martinu's Sonata's No. 2, Schubert's Sonata in A Minor and Beethoven's Sonata Op. 5, No. 1 in F Major.

Competition for scholarship awards will be held the week after the benefit and is open to boys and girls, 14 to 22 years old, who have studied music for three years.

County Ethics Code On Personnel Agenda

The Marin County Personnel Commission tomorrow will get into discussion of a code of ethics to govern county employee conduct.

The meeting will begin at 3 p.m. at the Civic Center.

The code of ethics study was suggested by Greenbrae Boardwalk resident Ann McCorry, who said some study was needed of the district attorney's office conduct in connection with the McGoran case, in which a man arrested after a scuffle at Confucius Restaurant in Larkspur charged that the district attorney did not respond to his request for a full investigation. Miss McCorry also told county supervisors the conduct of Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom should be looked into, suggesting that political pressure had forced him to change an earlier view that snag hazards should be cleared on Marin Municipal Water District timber lands.

The commission tomorrow will also consider waiving a ban on hiring of persons with criminal or arrest records, requested by County Probation Officer Walter Busher concerning a person he would like to hire on an extra hire basis (not permanent) to do consultant work.

Rancher Buys Famous Old Hereford

Marin County rancher George Wheelwright has paid $1,400 for a 14-year-old cow that will never set hoof on his 750-acre Green Gulch ranch near Muir Beach.

In fact, Dragee Plum Vern 12th will never leave her native England. She was bought by Wheelwright at an auction of prize Hereford cattle in order to guarantee her a peaceful old age. He promptly gave Plum to a Herefordshire farm owner to care for.

The cow is known as the Queen Victoria of the white-faced breed, because of her fine progeny sent all over the world. Three of her sons have sold for a total of $91,000 and a fourth, Vern Nobel, has never been permitted to leave the home farm because of his great value as a stock bull.

Wheelwright also bought four cows for $28,840 and a third share partnership in the $44,100 yearling bull Vern Scorpio.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheelwright are expected to return from Europe Oct. 28.

American Nazi Film Scheduled

A documentary film on the American Nazi party, produced by Marlin Johnson of Larkspur, will be shown Oct. 27 at the Film Festival in Masonic Auditorium, San Francisco.

The picture, made by Johnson's Sun Film Co., was shot during six months last year at the Nazi headquarters in Arlington, Va., and is built around the activities of George Lincoln Rockwell and his storm troopers during Rockwell's campaign for the governorship of Virginia. Rockwell permitted the filming.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Subject Was Roses' Audience Happy

By KARL BARRON

Frank Gilroy's three-character play, "The Subject Was Roses," is a study in lack of communication among people, but the trio playing it at the Circle Star Theater in San Carlos does a bang-up job of communicating with the audience.

Loud laughter and frequent applause from last night's opening night house gave evidence that the message was coming across loud and clear.

BRONX FAMILY

Gilroy takes a fairly representative family in the Bronx and gives us a study of the tensions which keep them separate as they try to understand each other. Timmy Cleary has come home after two years of combat service in World War II—home to a father who tries to order him around as he has always done, and a mother who offers to hold his head when an overdose of booze makes him sick.

Nettie Cleary desperately seeks the boy's love to compensate for the passionless void her married life has become, and John Cleary, a violent-tempered Irishman, attempts to break up the "alliance" of mother and son against father.

THE ROSE FRAUD

Timmy brings home a bunch of roses for Nettie and innocently suggests to John that he take credit for the idea of buying them. The disclosure of this minor fraud triggers a volcano of soul-searching by all three, culminating with a tender scene in which father and son state their love—aloud.

A young man seen in the Bay Area as Prometheus in the Stanford University Theater's "Prometheus Bound" last year steals the show from two seasoned performers. John Karlen plays Timmy with a relaxed intensity that is a joy to watch. Easy-going, placating the irate father, soothing the distraught mother, Karlen hits emotional peaks with effective ease. He is without question an actor to watch.

As his parents, Maureen O'Sullivan and Chester Morris are playing roles which both played on Broadway during the show's long run there.

A YOUNG MOTHER

Miss O'Sullivan brings understanding to the part of Nettie, making quite clear the torture she is undergoing in her sterile marriage. My only quibble with her performance is that it has a theatricality at times which contrasts sharply with the utter naturalness of Morris and Karlen. But this is minor. She does not look old enough to be Timmy's mother, and I had to keep reminding myself that she has children his age.

Morris plays John to the hilt—the bull in the china shop. He is funny, pitiable, and always believable. His timing on laughs is flawless, as is Karlen's.

Glenn Dudley's setting creates the proper feeling of a middle class New York flat, but is so delicate that the actors found themselves getting a few unscheduled laughs as walls trembled at a touch.

Paul Leaf's direction is solid, and he moves his actors to give the in-the-round audience as much view of them as possible.

I found myself liking this production far more than the road show which played here last season. And the play has enough meat to it to enjoy a second time around.

It will play nightly except Monday at 8:30, with matinees at 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, through Oct. 30.

Novato Club To Present May Musical

"The Bells Are Ringing," a hit Broadway musical, will be presented by the Novato Community Club the first three weekends next May.

This is the first time the club has scheduled a production for three weekends and was the result of the good reception given to its first Broadway musical, "Guys and Dolls."

The club has two other productions scheduled before the musical, "Life's a Ball," on Nov. 4, 5, 11 and 12, and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," the last two weekends in February.

Car Thieves Just Can't Win Nothing

WATERFORD, Conn. (UPI) — It was just one of those days for a pair of car thieves here recently. Shortly after they stole a car they ran it into a utility pole. Then they hitched a ride and were picked up by a policeman. At police headquarters, one of the thieves gave a false name but when asked to sign his fingerprint card he unthinkingly signed his correct name.

Hub Trustees Order Pipeline Relocation Job

The San Anselmo School District board last night awarded Ceccotti and Son of Marin, Inc. a $17,288 contract to repair a pipe line incorrectly installed by Cima Construction Co. of San Jose last fall.

Two bids were taken on an emergency basis Oct. 6. Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. bid $23,461.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said the district will sue the San Jose firm to recover cost of the replacement.

The board took no action on an Alcoholic Beverage Control Department notification of Gene Compton Corp.'s application for a restaurant and bar at the Sunny Hills shopping center.

The board was notified that the citizens committee on school finance will meet today at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School. The board approved application for federal funds of $2,395 for library books and $25,770 for development of a model library at Hidden Valley School.

The English word curfew is derived from the French words, "couvre-feu," meaning "cover the fire," a time when peasants would extinguish their cottage fires upon retiring for the night.

Pintail Duck One Of Fastest Around

A flock of pintails flew 1,100 miles in 82 days, according to the National Automobile Club. That's more than 13 miles a day and it isn't known if the birds flew direct.

Murphy Supports Clausen Version Of Redwood Parks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., went on record today in support of a redwood national park and seashore proposed by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

In endorsing the 45,000-acre Clausen plan, Murphy said it would include "a considerably higher percentage of virgin redwood groves." At the same time he said, it would result in "saving the taxpayers millions of dollars."

Murphy said the Clausen plan "would seem to be a practical and feasible plan" but promised to give it "further study."

A 90,000-acre park has been proposed in legislation being pushed in the House by Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., and in the Senate by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont. The measure has won numerous cosponsors in both chambers.

World War I Exhibit Set

Open house from noon to 4 p.m. Oct. 30 will introduce the exhibit of World War I memorabilia to be displayed at the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society Museum.

World War I posters, newspapers and sheet music will be sold to benefit the society.

Drunken Driving Fine

Robert Joseph Foley, 26, Napa, was fined $202 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Oct. 11 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Mill Valley Chamber Nominations Readied

The president of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, Charles J. Francis, yesterday appointed a five-man committee to nominate directors for 1967.

Appointed were Guido Todaro, Walter Brown, Leonard S. Peck, Bruce M. Wrisley and William Bacon. They will nominate 10 persons for five openings on the board. Ballots will be mailed to members Nov. 14 and counted Nov. 23.

Car Wash Saturday

The Young People's Fellowship of St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere will wash cars Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Embee Market to help pay for a full-time chaplain at the county juvenile hall. Cars will be washed at the Boardwalk Shopping Center in Tiburon.

Assembly Candidates Due On Radio KTIM

Candidates for State Assembly, incumbent William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and his Democratic opponent, James E. Pockrus of Rohnert Park, will be speakers on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The program will be repeated from a recording on Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1966 25

STRANDED? NOT QUITE — It looked like no school today for three Sir Francis Drake High School students—Douglas Jarrett, Shirley Helberg and David Bigall—when the chartered Greyhound bus that takes Lagunitas and Forest Knolls students to school refused to pick them up for lack of seats. But shortly after this photo was taken, a Greyhound Bus Lines official arrived in a station wagon and took them to school.

Stranded Scholars Get Ride To Class

Greyhound Bus Lines provided rides to school for all San Geronimo Valley students at Sir Francis Drake High School today—but not all on the bus.

Three students were left behind when Greyhound's Lagunitas-Forest Knolls school bus made its pickup at Forest Knolls, because all seats on the bus were filled. But right behind it came a Greyhound official in a station wagon, who took the three to school.

Yesterday, 10 students were reported left behind at Forest Knolls because the bus driver refused to take standees. Harold Allison, Drake High School principal, said today this was because the driver had taken out the wrong size bus.

Students riding the bus reported another Greyhound charter bus to Drake High which picks up Nicasio students has room to spare each morning.

While the three were left behind, one youth who is not registered at the high school rode the bus this morning. However, Frank Cassou, Tamalpais High School District business director, said the youth has special permission to ride the bus to a Fairfax school.

Fear Woman Drowned After Fall Off Boat

A 35-year-old Berkeley woman was missing today and believed drowned when she fell off a shrimp boat in Sausalito Yacht Harbor.

Mrs. Dora Lee Petty reportedly fell off the Maria Z about 1:25 a.m. while the boat was moored at the harbor. Two Coast Guard launches searched the area, but abandoned their search at 10 a.m.

One of the six persons who went on a cruise to Tiburon aboard the Maria Z, Gary Ramos, 25, of Berkeley, said four of the group left the boat for a nearby bar after it tied up at Sausalito. Ramos said he had started up the gangway to get coffee when he heard a splash and a scream for help.

Ramos ran back to the boat, he told police, but could not see Mrs. Petty in the darkness. He threw a life ring in the water, but heard nothing, he said.

The owner of the boat, James L. Williams of Berkeley, was among the four who went ashore before the accident. Williams called the Coast Guard and police when Ramos found him in a bar near the barbor.

Rear-End Collision

Annette Buchanan, 30, of Vallejo was injured yesterday morning on Highway 101, just north of Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael when she stopped for traffic and her car was hit from behind by one driven by Marsha Ann Davis, 19, 334 Atherton Avenue, Novato.

Streamlining Wins Favor With Planning Commission

By RICHARD LYTTLE

More routine functions of planning in Marin County may be taken over by the planning staff, leaving the county planning commission free to give more time to long range problems.

This proposal, by Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, met with general endorsement of the planning commission last night in a three-hour workshop session.

GENERAL PLAN

The commission also got into discussion of the county general plan and what it should be. Zucker urged that the plan include the cities as well as unincorporated areas.

Albert Solnit, chief of advanced planning, told the commission the general plan should be "a mechanism rather than a report'" He explained that it would require establishment of a system of goals and objectives, with constant reevaluation as the county changes.

This led to some pretty deep discussion on such things as the "dichotomy of the individual" and "the public interest" and exactly how you go about planning.

"One thing about planning I've never understood," Commissioner Michael Praszker said. "How much do you learn from the mistakes of the past and how much is a divine vision of the future?"

Solnit said there was no such thing as divine vision in planning and warned "we must be careful about deluding ourselves that our own prejudices are some kind of divine vision."

SPEEDUP PROPOSALS

Zucker, wishing to expedite processing of routine applications, recommended to the commission that his staff take over consideration of development plans. Some of them now go to the commission, others to both the commission and the board of supervisors, according to what section of the zoning ordinance they come under.

Zucker suggested that some master plans, that go to the commission and then the board for approval, go to the commission only, and that tentative subdivision maps be approved by the director and go to the commission only on appeal. Rezoning—which requires an ordinance—should continue to go to both the commission and the board of supervisors, he said.

The commission liked the suggestion and asked more study. But Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley had some reservations.

"It smacks a little of bureaucracy to me," Trombley said, explaining he would not like to see anything kept from the commission through a staff decision to keep it off agenda.

"It already smacks of bureaucracy," Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. declared. "Let's speed it up."

Commissioners had considerable doubt of getting a concerted effort on planning started with all cities taking part. Chairman Margaret Azevedo declared the cities looked "if not with hostility at least with suspicion" on the county.

Zucker said the planning effort should not originate with the county, but must start with a joint effort. "Nothing would kill it more than giving the impression this is under the board of supervisors or the planning commission," he said.

He suggested some body, such as the Local Agency Formation Committee, made up of both city and county representatives, could start the ball rolling.

SHORTER AGENDA

Also discussed last night were other means of shortening planning commission sessions. Praszker said that about 9 p.m., after a long day session, "I'm getting disinterested in the subject."

"To a degree, we bring it on ourselves," Schultz said, citing long conversations of commissioners, sometimes not on the subject.

School Repair Costs Cited At Lagunitas

Martin Rossi, architect for the Lagunitas School District, told district board members last night that it will cost at least $55,000 to bring the old wing of Lagunitas School up to Field Act Standards and improve its electrical, heating and plumbing systems.

Rossi suggested remodeling of the building's interior, making more efficient use of the space by converting portions of the building's wide corridors into classrooms, be done also. This would raise the cost to $80,000.

A third solution would be replacement of the entire building. A new building, including four classrooms and administrative offices, would cost approximately $110,000, he estimated.

The board took no action on Rossi's report but Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said a school facilities committee is due to review each of the three alternatives mentioned.

The board approved the hiring two teachers, Mrs. Geraldine Johnson and Mrs. Joy Reed. Mrs. Johnson will take a first grade class previously taught by Mrs. Toni Stanley, now on leave of absence. Mrs. Reed takes a third grade class for Mrs. Maxine Cantrell, who was assigned as district reading specialist last night.

McCunniff said the board will study replacement of a sheltered bus stop near the corner of Central Avenue and Carson Road because its location on a curve makes it a potential danger to students waiting there.

He reported that district enrollment is 511, an increase of 32 over last June.

It is 849 miles by highway from El Paso, Tex., in the state's western tip, to Orange at the eastern edge.

Informer Says Deal Made In Bookie Trial

An informer testified today that one of the 10 defendants in the $8 million bookie trial in U.S. District Court in San Francisco had been offered a no-prosecution deal if he would cooperate with the government.

The 10 defendants include Richard Andrews, 33, and Charles M. O'Neill, 37, both of Mill Valley.

Abe Fox, a pardoned bookie, said he conveyed the deal offer to Jack Graham, 57, a printer. The offer came from an investigator for the Internal Revenue Service, Fox said.

The men are charged with conspiring to evade $790,000 in U.S. wagering taxes on $7.9 million bets, handled in San Francisco and San Mateo counties from Jan. 1, 1959, to June 10, 1965.

The Square Chair Bar on Leavenworth Street, owned by Richard Rock of Mill Valley, one of the defendants in the Dow Wilson murder trial, entered into the bookie trial Monday.

A government witness, George D. Crowley, a San Jose public accountant, said he kept books for the bar, which was formerly owned by one of the defendants, Joaquin Ruiz, 60. Ruiz is the father of Tony Ruiz, 39, vending machine operator and reputed ring chief.

Three other defendants, including O'Neill, were identified as working bar shifts at the tavern.

School Buses Study Slated For Fairfax

Mrs. Gilbert Murphy was appointed chairman of a citizens committee to study the Fairfax School District's bus transportation needs by the district's board of trustees last night.

The district contracts for one bus with Patchett Transportation Co., but Supt. Reginald Hammond said many parents are concerned over areas not served by the bus. He said the committee will look into the need for contracting additional buses or purchasing one.

The Fairfax District Board also:

1. Unanimously supported a resolution by the Marin County Board of Education urging the California School Boards Assn. to change its setup to provide "proportional representation" in voting.

2. Approved application for $1,196 in federal funds to purchase library books, film strips, and other library materials.

3. Agreed to meet with representatives of the city council and recreation commission Nov. 1 to discuss use of school facilities in the city recreation program.

4. Approved an agreement with Bay Area Educational Television Assn. for educational programs over KQED for the remainder of the year, at cost of $250.

Homeowners Hear City-County Idea

Novato City Councilman William Jack Adams last night outlined how a city-county of Marin might be operated at a Marin Country Club Homeowners Assn. meeting in the Marin Country Club.

Adams said he felt that there was no need for such a government at present, but there might be in the future.

He also spoke of the need for rapid transit and the purpose of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Board Accepts Audit Ordering Bond Test

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors heard last night from Robert J. Soderblom they will have to make up interest payments on bond issues for property owners in the district who are delinquent on their property taxes.

Soderblom presented the audit of his firm, Wolff and Co., of San Rafael, of the district for fiscal 1966, which was accepted by the board.

L. N. Albrecht, 10 Harbor Vista Drive, showed plans for a revision of the link-wired fence around the Harbor Point pumping station. Albrecht had previously complained to the board that the fence made a glaring obstruction to the view from his house. The board agreed to have the fence taken down. Albrecht will pay for installation of protective guard rails and a double locking system for entrance to the station.

The board then went into closed session, which secretary Alfred O. Pratesi said was to review plant employee wages and consider hiring of an additional plant operator. A committee of Pratesi and Mrs. Beverly Wheeler will set up qualifications for hiring, he said.

Further discussion of salaries will be on Nov. 1, Pratesi reported.

The state legislative counsel held in a recent opinion that discussion of wages and salaries in closed session is a definite violation of state law. The state's anti-secrecy law permits closed sessions to discuss hiring, but not to set up qualifications for hiring.

Closed Session On Colleges Set

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education plans a closed door meeting at the State Capitol Nov. 22 to hear from representatives of the University of California and state colleges academic senates.

Committee members met last month in San Francisco to hear reports from college presidents.

The committee was established by the legislature in 1965 following student unrest at the University California Berkeley campus. The committee was formed to study the state master plan for higher education in light of current needs.

Cigarette Thefts Being Compared

The weekend theft of more than $20,000 in cigarettes from a San Rafael warehouse closely resembles other cigarette thefts recently in Sacramento and Contra Costa counties, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said today.

Chiesa said the burglars in Sacramento County took cigarettes worth almost $30,000 and those in Contra costa County took about $5,000 worth.

Thieves in San Rafael took the cigarettes from North Coast Distributors at 735 Lincoln Avenue and carted them off in the distributor's own trucks.

The trucks were found abandoned Monday in an isolated area of Pinole in Contra Costa County.

Peninsula Fire Hits Medical Building

BURLINGAME (UPI)—A two-alarm fire early today caused at least $100,000 damage to a medical dental building, a two-story structure near Peninsula Hospital.

Valley Citizens Urge Keeping Train Running

OROVILLE (AP) — The California Zephyr passenger train, described as a major tourist attraction, could possibly be kept running through a tax advantage from the legislature, Sen. Stan Pittman, R-Oroville, said today.

Pittman testified in a crowded Butte County Court House chamber against Western Pacific Railroad's plan to discontinue the Zephyr.

"Closing down the Zephyr would be like closing down the Redwood Highway or Disneyland," Pittman said. He commented that some form of subsidy or tax advantage may be needed and he would ask the Senate Transportation Committee to review possible legislation.

Pittman said the Zephyr passenger service would be increasingly important as the Oroville Dam and its recreational service is completed. He added that the train is needed during the Viet Nam war.

James A. Walley, president of the Oroville Chamber of Commerce, said about 22 Zephyr passengers board or leave the train every day at Oroville. This has an economic impact on the town equal to an industry with an annual payroll of $100,000, Walley said.

Trading Stamps Hit By Tax Lien

FRESNO (UPI)—The Board of Equalization has slapped a $22,894 tax lien on the real property of the embattled Thrifty Green Stamps, Inc., of Fresno.

The lien, filed in the Fresno County recorder's office yesterday, is against unpaid sales and use taxes for the period from April 1, 1964, to Dec. 31, 1965.

The action came on the heels of a run on Thrifty's 14 stamp redemption centers by stamp savers following a rumor the company was going out of business.

Capital Lawmaker Defends Taking Expense Payments

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Democratic assemblyman, accused of receiving $22,000 in living expenses although his home was four miles from the Capitol, said today that "there is nothing illegal about this at all."

Cronkite sent a letter to Controller Alan Cranston asking him to "desist from any further payments to Mr. Z'berg and seek refund of the $22,335 paid to and claimed by him."

Cronkite said the State Board of Control rules for constitutional officers provide that no expenses can be incurred within 10 miles of one's home. A spokesman for Cranston said legislators' expense payments were covered by legislative rule and not by the Board of Control.

Z'berg, a lawyer, is seeking reelection against Republican Fred D. Corfee, owner of a dry cleaning business. Z'berg said Cronkite's claim was a smear.

If Cronkite thinks it's illegal, "why didn't he report it to the district attorney's office rather than use it as a political blast in the last days of the campaign?" Z'berg replied today.

The assemblyman didn't dispute Cronkite's figure, but said "I am in exactly the same situation as any other legislator, including all the other legislators from Sacramento. There is nothing illegal about this at all."

Z'berg said he incurred the expenses in travel and other legislative duties. He is chairman of the Assembly Natural Resources Committee.

Z'berg explained that he did not treat the money as per diem living expenses and paid income taxes on it.

Meeting Cancelled

A special meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority last night was cancelled for lack of a quorum. Review of plans for the proposed elderly housing project in Homestead Valley and purchase of Novato property for another housing project were on the agenda. Next meeting of the authority will be Nov. 1.

Supervisors Fund Outside Surveys

Marin County Supervisors yesterday set up a fund of $29,650 to finance studies by outside consultants, two on data processing and one on county salaries.

County Administrator Alan Bruce had earlier recommended that $15,400 be provided to hire a consultant to study a new data system for processing school payrolls. He said yesterday that perhaps such systems have been established satisfactorily in other counties and if so, these could be adopted to Marin at little cost.

The nature of a second $6,500 study, to look into management of the department, is still under study. Bruce said he would have a specific recommendation next week.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen wondered whether the data processing function might be assigned a non-profit corporation and separated entirely from the county. There was little reaction to this suggestion.

The third study would be a $7,750 review of clerical salaries paid by the county. This was to be done by a personnel analyst authorized in the June budget session, but the county personnel department has been unable to fill the position, salary for which would start at $717 per month.

County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott recommended that consultants Griffenhagen-Kroeger of San Francisco be retained for the job. Supervisors yesterday authorized preparation of a contract with the firm.

Marin County supervisors yesterday also:

1. Authorized employment of an additional veteran's service officer at $6,432 a year, increasing the county staff in that department to six. The state will cover 30 per cent of the cost, but supervisors asked a query be put to the veteran's administration as to why state and county funds must be used to administer a federal program. James Burdick, county veterans service officer, said the staff increase was needed due to expansion of benefits under federal "cold war" legislation.

2. Hired Lurline Drake at $790 a month as unit supervisor in the family rehabilitation center, and Katharine A. Kalstad at $419 as senior stenographer in the planning department.

3. Set hearing on the proposed consolidation of the Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District and Bolinas Public Utilities District for Nov. 7.

4. Set for Nov. 15 rezoning hearing on lowering the density for residential development in the Black Point Area, and hearing for rezoning from manufacturing to resort and commercial recreation on the west side of Richardson Bay.

5. Set hearing on the first development plans for the Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley for next Tuesday.

6. Allowed 4,000 square foot lots for 19 of 23 lots proposed in Marin City Unit 4-A, planned with cluster housing by Barrett Construction Co.

7. Set hearing for 1:30 p.m., Dec. 6, on the Bolinas Lagoon master plan and related proposal for open area zoning.

8. Adjourned at 3:50 p.m.

Vacationing Supervisor Peter H. Behr was absent.

Observers Disagree Over Russ Satelite

BERLIN (AP)—The Wilhelm Foerster Observatory in West Berlin said the Soviet Union launched a space satellite today but the observatory at Bochum said it had been in orbit since Monday.

A spokesman at Bochum, who discounted the earlier report, did not say how he knew the satellite was launched Monday. There has been no Soviet announcement of such a launching.

June No Longer Dominates Weddings

ALTAVISTA, Va. (UPI) — June no longer dominates the wedding calendar. Bridal business now is spread almost uniformly throughout the year, according to The Lane Company, furniture manufacturer.

The average couple today also expects to begin married life with a fully furnished home, the company says.

Board Sets Precedent With Local Park Cash

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted 4-0, with Supervisor Peter H. Behr absent, to contribute $10,000 in county funds toward development of a park planned by the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

The park is proposed on a one-acre site on Descanso Way and would include a tennis court, play court, tot lot, and picnic area. It would cost about $44,000.

County Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske pointed out the direct subsidy for local facilities is a departure from past county policy. He said the county effort has been directed toward "regional parks."

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who urged the donation to the CSD, said: "Regional is just a label. You could call something regional just because it is in a region."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he has long been convinced the county should encourage local parks, but he balked at a suggestion by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows that a change in policy be studied.

"No. Every time this comes up, it just starts all sorts of emotions in the other direction," Kettenhofen said.

The $10,000 will be taken from the county purchase and development fund, budgeted at $42,000. Joske expressed hope this will be replaced at the next budget session. The money probably would have been held for the Deer Park development, but federal participating funds for that are not expected until next year, Joske said.

Marin Dogs Awarded Ribbons At Yuba Show

Champion Wycliffe Dudley, black standard poodle owned by Charles S. Willis of 578 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, won best of variety and third in the non-sporting group at the Two Cities Kennel Club show in Yuba City last weekend.

Champion Danny Boy of Langesk, a long-haired dachshund owned by George and Molly Weatherstone of 3 Zanco Way, Novato, also won best of variety honors at the show. Professional handler Phyllis Greer of 275 Channel Drive, Novato, showed both winners.

The earth's home galaxy, slowly wheeling, has 200 billion suns. Earth's sun makes a full revolution every 230 million years.

Local Agency Commission Goes On County's Payroll

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted to pay $25 per meeting to members of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, with a maximum of $50 per month.

The authorization will include the two supervisor members of the commission and the alternate. Regular members currently are Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen is alternate.

The pay was recommended by the commission two weeks ago. It is the same paid members of the county planning commission.

Leydecker yesterday said this was a very low figure considering the work members of the commission do, saying it is "more than the public can rightfully expect. He asked a study of possible increases to take effect in fiscal 1967-68.

Indecent Exposure

An unidentified young man, 20 to 22 years old, exposed himself yesterday in Boyle Park in Mill Valley to two 12-year-old girls, the mother of one of the girls reported to police.

Housing For Elderly

Marin County Citizens Advisory Committee tonight will consider a formal request to the Marin Housing Authority to survey the need for a federal lease subsidy plan to provide housing for the elderly in Marin. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Civic Center.

Mobile Home Study Slated On 3-1 Vote

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted 3-1, with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker dissenting, to launch study of an ordinance controlling mobile homes in unincorporated areas of the county.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss brought the matter up, saying there is no provision for mobile homes in the county ordinance now, but they appear a good solution for elderly housing. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen agreed.

Both Gnoss and Kettenhofen distinguished between "mobile homes" and "trailer," but did not say exactly what that distinction was.

Leydecker said mobile homes do not meet the county's uniform building ordinance and would mean "bootleg subdivisions."

"The uniform building code is simply a self-protecting machinism for home builders," Kettenhofen countered.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said there was a board request for such a study some time back and it is one of the department's pending study projects.

Citizen Makes Arrest On Assault, Battery

Peter Lawlor, 44, of 207 Hawthorne Street, Mill Valley, was booked yesterday at county jail on assault and battery charges filed against him in a citizen's arrest by Anthony B. Astingo of 1270 Yukon Way, Novato. Astingo, a juvenile probation officer, told police he was leaving the Mill Valley library when Lawlor struck him in the mouth, chipping two teeth.

Juvenile Hall Portable Gets An Unhappy Nod

Faced with complains of crowding at Juvenile Hall, Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to provide relief with a portable building.

But while all was harmony when it came to vote, not all supervisors were happy with the type of building.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss was in favor of rejecting the design submitted and accepted from Modulux Inc. of Newark.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he preferred a different type of roof.

Chairman Byron W. Leydecker, however, argued the design was in accordance with other buildings at juvenile hall and, in any case, the need was urgent.

The board had discussed the design and cost of the Modulux building last week but was "hung up" yesterday by a last-minute bid for the contract by another firm, Speed Space.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said that in this case the board was in order in not advertising for bids.

Speed Space had been one of three firms notified of the need for a portable building early in the summer, the board was told, although a representative of the company yesterday said the first he learned about it was a report in the Independent-Journal Friday.

Leydecker contended it would cause delays to open bidding on the project at this stage. There was also the question of possible compensation to Modulux which had already done a certain amount of engineering.

He added, however, that the board was placed in "an uncomfortable position" when firms came in at the last moment just as members were poised for action. "We shall have to get ourselves adequately documented in future," he said.

Jewel Tower Hit By Thief

LONDON (AP) — The Tower of London, the ancient depository of Britain's crown jewels, was robbed last night of $7,000.

Charles Mahadeo, 31, a government clerk, told police the thief walked into a fourth-floor office in the Lanthorn Tower, knocked him semiconscious and made off with the day's take from tourists.

Hepatitis Up; Needle Party Habit Blamed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Contaminated hypodermic needles used to inject illicit drugs are causing an outbreak of a dangerous liver disease, the city Health Department said Tuesday.

Barbiturates and amphetamines, one a sedative and the other a stimulate, often are used at beatnik parties, although they have to be obtained on the black market since they cannot be purchased without a medical prescription.

A department spokesman said they often are administered by needles that are not properly sterilized—boiled after each injection.

Board To View Funds For Park

The State Park Commission will review possible additions to Mount Tamalpais State Park at its public meeting Friday, beginning at 9 a.m. on the ferryboat Eureka at the Hyde Street pier in San Francisco.

There is a $4 million allocation in the state budget for land purchase, but expansion plans have been rendered uncertain by the sale last August of the 1,835-acre Brazil ranch to a Southern California organization, calling itself the First Christian Church of America.

Another element of controversy has been injected into expansion discussion by a proposal that the state purchase adjoining watershed land declared surplus by Marin Municipal Water District. Opponents contend this land is already in public trust, so the state should use its money to buy other land.

More Citizen Help Asked For Schools

The San Rafael Board of Education issued another call last night for citizens willing to serve on a finance advisory committee for San Rafael City Schools.

Asst. Supt. William C. Jordan said there are now 150 nominees for the committee.

The board is gathering groups of interested citizens to review the financial status of the districts, examine population trends and "relate these to land cost factors," he said.

Citizens interested in serving should notify Jordan, the board said.

Fewer than 2 per cent of the atoms present in any human body were there the previous year.

BOARD SPLITS ON CONVENTION ISSUE

Debate Over Welfare Chiefs' Parley Leads To New Policy On Administration Reviews

Marin County supervisors yesterday instituted a new policy calling for administrative review of all conferences and conventions for county employees, including those for supervisors themselves.

This came at the end of a discussion that saw some sharp words between Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Betty L. Presley, director of the social services (welfare) department.

Miss Presley asked permission to attend a week-long conference starting Nov. 13 in Berkeley at total cost of $235.75, with 75 per cent to be reimbursed by the federal government.

The conference is called "executive management course for public welfare administrators" and is sponsored by the American Public Welfare Assn. Judging from the agenda, Leydecker said, it appeared too elementary for someone already in charge of a department.

He also said that of the conferences he has attended, including those for county supervisors, "You could take the whole lot of them and throw them in a thimble for the amount of good they do."

Miss Presley said she had considered the request carefully before making it and found it would be beneficial.

"All I'm asking is that some intellegience be applied across the board," Leydecker said.

"The assumption is that I haven't applied any intelligence," Miss Presley said resentfully.

Later, after Supervisor William A. Gnoss moved approval and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer seconded sending Miss Presley to the conference, Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen indicated he was willing to dissent with Leydecker, saying there had been considerable misunderstanding.

"Miss Presley has deliberately misunderstood," Leydecker said.

"Well," said Kettenhofen, "I'm going to vote 'yes' on this because of that last remark. I think there's $60 worth of morale at stake here. (The county's share of the cost would be $60.)

The vote was 3-1, with Leydecker dissenting and Supervisor Peter H. Behr absent. The board then voted 4-0 for county administrator study of the entire conference and convention field.

Miss Presley's request had been disapproved by the administrator's office. Usually such requests are handled routinely by the board when the administrator approves.

Pentagon Buys 99 New Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force fighter pilots are expected to have more success against Soviet-made fighters using 99 Phantom jets equipped with built-in cannon.

Pentagon said yesterday it is buying the 99 new planes which are designed to give the United States clear superiority over the Soviet- built MIG21.

The 20mm Gatling gun to be mounted in the Phantom nose can fire 6,000 rounds a minute. Miniaturization of certain radar equipment made room for the gun.

Present Phantoms have only wing-mounted 20mm gun pods, which some pilots said were not accurate enough in air-to-air combat. The Phantoms also carry bombs, rockets and missiles.

Jet Nose Gear Causes Scare

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Officials say they are investigating the collapse of the nose gear of a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jet during a landing at International Airport.

A TWA spokesman said pilot Richard V. Fertal of San Francisco had no warning as the gear collapsed under the plane last night.

The plane, from San Francisco and bound for Washington, skidded 200 yards, remaining on the runway. There were no injuries among the 52 passengers and seven crewmen.

French Expert Wins With That 'Ole' Missing Deuce

Since all articles this week are devoted to the importance of deuces, we must tell the story of the Deuce That Wasn't There.

The time, a few years ago; the scene, a Parisian bridge club; and the cast of characters included the late Marcel Peeters in the East seat.

SPADE SHIFT

West led the four of hearts, and Peeters took the first three tricks with the jack, ace and king of hearts.

He then shifted to the deuce of spades.

Declarer hadn't paid very close attention to the spots, and if he noticed that the deuce of hearts had not appeared he probably thought it was still in the West hand.

South did notice that East had not led a fourth heart.

CLUB FINESSE

This seemed to mean that East was out of hearts.

In that case South could assure the contract by finessing through West for the queen of clubs. It would be fatal to neglect this finesse if West had Q-x-x of clubs.

It would be "safe" to try the finesse even if East had the queen, because then South would lose only one club and three hearts.

SAFETY PLAY

Peeters won with the queen of clubs and sat up as though surprised as he led the deuce of hearts to defeat the contract.

"I had it mixed up with my spades," Peeters apologized. "I almost lost this trick by arranging my cards so carelessly."

South nodded bitterly. He knew he would have made the contract if East had taken his four hearts.

There would be no reason for the "safety play" in clubs, and he would have lost only four heart tricks.

ANSWER: Pass.

In most bidding systems you are allowed to pass the opening bid of one club. Don't dream of responding to a non-forcing bid when you have only two jacks.

Children Give Money For New Zoo Colt

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —The St. Louis Zoo has a new tenant—a three-month-old Chincoteague colt. The animal is the gift of 250 youngsters at The Principia, a private school.

Zoo-keeper Marlin Perkins, accepted a cash donation and bought the colt on a visit to Chincoteague, an island off the coast of Virginia. The calico colt with a white star on its forehead has been named Little Star.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1966 with 73 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

The Roman poet Virgil was born on this day in 70 B.C.

On this day in history:

In 1936, three newspapers reporters ended their around-the-world airplane race when H. R. Ekins landed at Lakehurst, N.J. The time: 18 days, 11 hours, 14 minutes and 33 seconds.

In 1954, Great Britain and Egypt signed a new Suez pact providing for withdrawal of British troops from the canal during the next 20 months.

A thought for the day—German writer Thomas Kempis said: "Be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself as you wish."

The industrial revolution made essential more exact methods of measurement. Parts of a machine made in different factories will not fit together unless they are made to precise standards.

French Expert Wins With That 'Ole' Missing Deuce

Since all articles this week are devoted to the importance of deuces, we must tell the story of the Deuce That Wasn't There.

The time, a few years ago; the scene, a Parisian bridge club; and the cast of characters included the late Marcel Peeters in the East seat.

SPADE SHIFT

West led the four of hearts, and Peeters took the first three tricks with the jack, ace and king of hearts.

He then shifted to the deuce of spades.

Declarer hadn't paid very close attention to the spots, and if he noticed that the deuce of hearts had not appeared he probably thought it was still in the West hand.

South did notice that East had not led a fourth heart.

CLUB FINESSE

This seemed to mean that East was out of hearts.

In that case South could assure the contract by finessing through West for the queen of clubs. It would be fatal to neglect this finesse if West had Q-x-x of clubs.

It would be "safe" to try the finesse even if East had the queen, because then South would lose only one club and three hearts.

SAFETY PLAY

Peeters won with the queen of clubs and sat up as though surprised as he led the deuce of hearts to defeat the contract.

"I had it mixed up with my spades," Peeters apologized. "I almost lost this trick by arranging my cards so carelessly."

South nodded bitterly. He knew he would have made the contract if East had taken his four hearts.

There would be no reason for the "safety play" in clubs, and he would have lost only four heart tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ J 10 6
♥ 9 7 5 4
♦ J 8 7 6
♣ 7 6

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

In most bidding systems you are allowed to pass the opening bid of one club. Don't dream of responding to a non-forcing bid when you have only two jacks.

Children Give Money For New Zoo Colt

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —The St. Louis Zoo has a new tenant—a three-month-old Chincoteague colt. The animal is the gift of 250 youngsters at The Principia, a private school.

Zoo-keeper Marlin Perkins, accepted a cash donation and bought the colt on a visit to Chincoteague, an island off the coast of Virginia. The calico colt with a white star on its forehead has been named Little Star.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1966 with 73 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

The Roman poet Virgil was born on this day in 70 B.C.

On this day in history:

In 1936, three newspapers reporters ended their around-the-world airplane race when H. R. Ekins landed at Lakehurst, N.J. The time: 18 days, 11 hours, 14 minutes and 33 seconds.

In 1954, Great Britain and Egypt signed a new Suez pact providing for withdrawal of British troops from the canal during the next 20 months.

A thought for the day—German writer Thomas Kempis said: "Be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself as you wish."

The industrial revolution made essential more exact methods of measurement. Parts of a machine made in different factories will not fit together unless they are made to precise standards.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Variola minor, a mild form of smallpox, has plagued England for many years. It is easily mistaken for chickenpox, especially when the rash is scanty. In addition many of the victims were vaccinated years before and have just enough immunity to modify the response to the infection. The diagnosis is difficult to make in these circumstances.

ONE OF THE first cases reported this year was a professional photographer. He helped to verify the diagnosis by taking his own photograph while the rash was fully developed. About 30 other men and women became victims and were hospitalized. Recovery is the rule in this mild form of the disease.

The initial manifestations of variola minor resemble influenza with fever, headache, vomiting, aching, and shivering. Often all these symptoms exist at one time. The rash develops a few days later beginning on the face or on the arms or hands. The lesions are more numerous on the head and limbs; the front of the trunk is frequently spared. The rash is apt to be denser in areas subject to pressure such as under a ring, belt, or garter.

ALL THE POX do not crop out at one time, and fresh lesions may continue to develop for up to six days. The vesicles contain an opaque grayish fluid that is unlike the clear watery contents of a chickenpox and seldom rupture. The British use the electron microscope to view the causative virus particles that are present in the secretions or on crusts.

To my knowledge this type of smallpox is not found in the United States. According to the British Medical Journal, epidemics of variola minor were common in England between 1923 and 1934. Approximately 15,000 cases were reported in 1927.

Vaccination is the best preventive. This is one of the reasons why those traveling in endemic areas must be revaccinated at 3-year intervals.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

Arraignment On Dope Charge

Roger Bruce Goode, 30, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony charge of marijuana possession.

Judge Peter Allen Smith appointed the public defender's office to represent Goode and scheduled plea entry for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Goode, of Woodacre, was arrested by Corte Madera police Monday for investigation of petty theft. A county jail search disclosed two marijuana cigarettes in his possession, officers said.

29 Gonorrhea Cases Reported

Communicable diseases reported to the Marin County Health Department for week ending Oct. 14 included 29 cases of gonorrhea, 14 of which were in San Rafael.

Mill Valley reported five cases of gonorrhea, Marin City and Novato two each, and Sausalito, Kentfield, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Hamilton Air Force Base and rural county area, one each.

Also reported were 18 cases of streptococcic throat and one case of tuberculosis.

China's Leader Reviews Youths

TOKYO (AP) — Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung reviewed 1.5 million youthful Red Guards — the muscles behind China's "cultural revolution" — in a pointed rebuff yesterday to Soviet bloc criticism of the movement.

The cheering youths lined a 17-mile route to Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace Square to salute the 72-year-old Mao and his No. 2 man, Defense Minister Lin Piao, the New China News Agency reported.

The report made no mention of any speeches. Mao, hatless and in military uniform, was described as looking "very fit."

TV REVIEW

CBS Gives Vivid Look At Prisons

By RICK DU BROW

An although the range of its answers was certainly nothing new to any semi-literate reader of newspapers and magazines, there is no denying the vividness of some of the pictorial presentation drove home points effectively, especially the interviews with prisoners.

In this day and age, surely no one needs a television program to be reminded of the argument that rehabilitation for the outside world is a key for convicts who seem able to handle the situation—but "Men in Cages" reiterated the case, relying heavily on visual examples.

The linking of poverty and crime, and the case for the importance of employment and self respect, were underlined—again.

But surely the most striking interview was with the manly young fellow who said that when he entered prison five years before he felt that somebody owed him something—but that he found out, by learning himself, that nobody owed him anything. He felt that now he was ready for the outside, and he had learned a trade to help him get along.

Again we were told how prisons often teach more crime to young convicts, and that they shouldn't be lumped with hardened offenders who have been caged longer. We also had another run-through of the difficulties of getting a job once released, and of the halfway-houses and rehabilitation centers. It's not that these things aren't important—because they are—but since most of this is well known, the program seemed again to shed only a little more light than heat.

Some of the questions would not have set too well with my old sociology professor at Northwestern, Bill Byron—"What do you think about?" "Are you lonely?" But It do think he would like the idea of giving as much dissemination as possible to an important matter.

One thing I must add: The maddeningly impersonal tone of some of these immensely fair documentaries these days gives one the impression that if the nation were to be invaded tonight, all the networks would—as someone has suggested—immediately put on porgrams giving both sides of the issue.

NBC-TV's promised Sunday afternoon experimental theater series of one-hour programs starts Feb. 19 with a drama, "Losers Weepers," by Harry E. Dolan, one of Budd Schulberg's proteges in his workshop for writers in the Watts section of Los Angeles. The story is set in Watts and will be shot on location there.

Dolan, 36, father of five, formerly was a bell boy, janitor, waiter, apprentice glassblower and, for a short time, managing editor of a weekly newspaper in Boston. Since his appearance on the recent NBC-TV documentary, "The Angry Voices of Watts," about the workshop, he has had a script accepted by the comedy series, "The Hero."

CLOSE HARMONY GIVES YOU BETTER BUYS at GUASCO'S

Guasco Supers are Marin's oldest food stores under the same family management. Marin families, over the years, have made this continual growth possible due to a mutual understanding with the store management. Both old and new customers at Guasco's ask for only one thing—high quality at lowest possible price. And today . . . that's what you get at Guasco's. No games! No stamps! No puzzles! No coupons! No premiums! NO HIDDEN COSTS ADDED TO YOUR CHECK. Just the finest quality of foods . . . the most economical price . . . week after week after week. Close harmony? That's the cooperation we have built up over the years with our suppliers . . . years and years of appreciated business with the same suppliers give us hundreds to thousands of dollars in discounts and buying concessions . . . most of which we pass on to you. So, if you're tired of playing games, pasting stamps, cutting coupons, clipping puzzles, paying higher food bills—why not try Guasco's? Oh yes, we didn't mention Guasco service. Our old customers take it for granted. Good service comes natural to us. But for you first-timers, we're told, it comes as a pleasant surprise. Another evidence of close harmony.

Tam Boasts Greatest Tandem Since Fred And Ginger

By GARY TISCHLER

They may be the greatest tandem since Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Or maybe Damon and Pythias. They sure work their routine well.

About the only way to stop Steve Woodward and Mike Biber, Tamalpais High School's great pass and catch combo, would be to make them take the wrong bus and hope that they won't get back on time. Otherwise, prepare yourself for a passing deluge.

The deluge became a flood last week as Woodward wore his arm down to a frazzle in completing 32 of 43 passes for 546 yards and three touchdowns in a 38-25 victory over Novato. Biber caught half of the passes for 199 yards and two touchdowns, his usual quota of scoring for a game.

That little performance has earned the pair the Independent-Journal's co-preps of the week honors.

It wouldn't be fair to do it otherwise. Separating the two would be like Batman without the boy wonder, a war picture without John Wayne, like tea for one. It wouldn't seem right.

Biber and Woodward, both seniors, have been working together on various projects for a long time. You know how it is—they grew up together. They live practically next door to each other.

Biber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Biber, 5 Layton Court, Mill Valley. Woodward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woodward, 30 Ashford, Mill Valley.

And if it seems that Woodward could probably find Biber 50 yards away blindfolded, it's no accident.

"We walk home from school," they explained. "We talk over patterns or special things we might want to do against a certain team."

Woodward's performance last week was especially amazing when you consider that he hasn't played football since his freshman year.

"I decided to come out this year because we didn't have a returning quarterback," he said. "I thought I could make it."

He didn't. What happened of course was that Tam did have a quarterback in sophomore Don Macklin, who promptly threw eight touchdown passes in his brief career this season.

But Macklin broke his wrist midway through the Drake game, with the Pirates ahead, 13-7. And Woodward remembers that pretty well.

"Donnie came in holding his arm and said he couldn't play," he recalled. "So coach Hector sent me in. Boy, was I shaking."

He needn't have. On his first play, he completed a screen pass to Mike Fowler for 30 yards and the Indians went on to win 26-13.

"That sure made me feel better," Woodward said.

"Steve has a lot of confidence," Biber said. "He knows what he's doing. He's a leader."

For the record, in less than three games, Woodward has completed 51 of 81 passes (64

A Ringing Appeal For Peace; It's A Small World, Isn't It?

GONG WITH THE WIN—When the San Rafael High School Victory Bell disappeared during last Friday's Terra Linda-San Rafael football game, tempers flared as each side accused the other of burglary.

It reached an alarming tempo when one guy bellowed "I'll ring your neck" and another chimed in, "Strike him in the belly," but Board of Education member Carl J. Brown arrived on the scene and toned down the bellicose situation.

CARL J. BROWN

Therefore, and I sincerely hope you will forgive me for this, I nominate Brown for the no bell peace prize.

MY, BUT it's a diminutive globe: Bill Hickerson Sr., father of the Drake High School football star, was an All-American for the Alabama team that lost the 1937 Rose Bowl game to California, whose All-American halfback was Sammy Chapman, who happens to live in Greenbrae, which is just a few miles from Hickerson's San Anselmo home. (Hell's bells, what do you want for a dime, Robert Ripley?)

ARCHIE WILLIAMS, U. of Cal 400-meters track star of 1936 sprintage, is a math teacher at Drake High who can really teach his students that the shortest distance between two points is run, baby, run!

LITTLE FRANKIE SAMPIETRO, who helped originate the Marin Country Club's Italian Golf Carnevale, played the role of an organ-grinder's monkey in Sunday's sixth annual edition of the Grapes of Wrath. It wasn't too bad when they made him stand on his head and do somersaults for peanuts, but when they chained him to the fire hydrant and threw pennies at him! Really!!!

I understand the Carnevale's awards banquet turned out to be a smashing success, because I saw several very ill Duces yesterday.

And I'm happy to report that for lunch they served prosciutto sandwiches prepared by the Little Old Swine Baker.

Anyway, committeeman Sil DeMaestri happily estimates the shindig may net as much as $1,500 for charity.

THE ITINERARY for the Japanese national swim team that will perform at College of Marin Thursday evening calls for lunch today at—a Japanese restaurant. Just like mama-san used to make.

TERRA LINDAN Dick Schultze, quarterback for S.F. State, this season has completed 13 out of 25 passes for 192 yards, caught one pass for 54 yards and rushed 12 times for a net of 5 yards, according to the Gators' statistician.

Giants Boss Testifies Cepeda Is 'Team Man'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays and San Francisco Giants president Horace Stoneham were scheduled for the witness stand today in Orlando Cepeda's libel suit against Look magazine. Another possible witness was Garry Schumacher, Giants public relations manager.

In court action yesterday, Stoneham and Giants pitcher Juan Marichal testified Cepeda, a former Giants first baseman who now plays for St. Louis, was a "team man."

Cepeda charges in his $1 million libel suit against the Cowles Publishing Co., publishers of Look, that an article written by Look's former sports editor, Tim Cohane, damaged his career. The article was published May 21, 1963.

"I think he is and was a team man. I think he gave out at every opportunity he had. . ."

Defense attorney Charles W. Kenady said Cohane visited the Giants spring training camp in 1963 and the veteran sportswriter "detected an undercurrent of dissatisfaction, of frustration" because Cepeda was a holdout while the other Giants were training.

Kenady said much of the information in the magazine article was learned by Cohane from Schumacher. Stoneham testified Schumacher, a public relations manager for 15 years, had the responsibility of dealing with writers supplying authorized information.

Marichal described his former teammate as a man who tried "every day to win, he tried to help the club."

Ray Willsey Talks Of Annihilation

BERKELEY (AP) — UCLA's Bruins haven't been trying the long pass this year, but that doesn't make Cal coach Ray Willsey any more confident.

Vic Kelly, UCLA public relations man, said coach Tommy Prothro had decided opponents were too well defensed for quarterback Gary Bean's long throws, and has turned to short ones.

Beban's long bombs in 1965 beat Southern California and then won the Rose Bowl game from Michigan State.

Dolphins Claim Earl Faison

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Earl Faison, four-time All - American Football League defensie end placed on waivers by the San Diego Chargers, has been claied by the Miami Dolphins.

The 6-foot-5, 265-pound Faison, rookie of the year in 1961, was waived by the Chargers yesterwith a comment from coach Sid Gillman that Faison "will be better off with some other team."

Guy Stars Against His Ex-Mates

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The San Francisco Warriors didn't see anything new about the Chicago Bulls last night. What they saw was the same old Guy Rodgers.

The Bulls, the National Basketball Association's brand new team, won their second straight game of the season by downing San Francisco 119-116. Rodgers, who played for the Warriors since his graduation from Temple in 1958 until he was acquired by Chicago earlier this month, scored 22 points and set up another 40 with 20 assists.

Ray Scott's three-point play in the final 23 seconds provided the Pistons with its first victory of the campaign. The Royals went ahead 110-108 in the final quarter until Scott tied the score, rookie Dave Bing put the Pistons ahead with a free throw and Scott turned in his three-point play. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati took scoring honors with 28 points.

The Knicks were outscored 40-30 in the final period but managed to come up with victory No. 1. Walt Bellamy's 25 points, Willis Reed's 22 and Butch Komives' 18 paced the Knicks. The Lakers, playing without the injured Jerry West, were sparked by Elgin Baylor with 31 points.

Detroit QB Out For Year

DETROIT (AP) — With quarterback Milt Plum out for the season, "we'll start Karl Sweetan" against San Francisco Sunday, Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer said yesterday.

But the National Football League club plans to activate former Northwestern star Tommy Myers from the Pontiac Arrows of the semipro Midwest Football League, where he has thrown 10 touchdown passes in seven games.

That move, ihcidentally, will ruin a big homecoming game planned for Myers at Troy, Ohio, Sunday. Pontiac plays Dayton and the game had been moved to Troy so Myers could perform before the home folk in the stadium where he played high school football.

"I'll be sorry to miss that homecoming," said Myers yesterday. "But I'll sure be glad to be back with the Lions. I think getting knocked around at Pontiac has helped me, at least it's better than riding the bench. But I'm sure looking forward to playing with Detroit again."

Plum was blitzed by Don Shinnick of the Colts at Baltimore Sunday and left the game. At first the injury to his left knee was diagnosed as a sprain, but yesterday Gilmer was told Plum had a torn ligament.

"Tommy has been working out with us all along, so he knows everything we've been doing," Gilmer said.

"We'll definitely start Sweetan. We'll see how it goes as to whether we'll use Myers or not. Sweetan is a little more up to date and Myers is there to back him up," Gilmer said.

Bribery Attempt Is Latest Worry For McClendon

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — At the end of the 1961 collegiate football season Charlie McClendon was offered two head coaching jobs—Kentucky and Louisiana State.

Kentucky was his alma mater. He played for the Wildcats under Paul (Bear) Bryant. The Kentucky post offered more money and a longer contract.

Nevertheless, McClendon — because he knew the personnel he would inherit—chose LSU—where he had been chief assistant under Paul Dietzel.

The soft-spoken native of Lewisville, Ark., has had one big headache after another as LSUs' coach.

The latest is the arrest of Samuel Joseph Graziano, 26-year-old Baton Rouge barber, by the FBI on charges of attempting to bribe three Tigers backfield stars to shave points. The trio reported the bribe attempt to federal agents and cooperated closely with the FBI, which arrested Graziano yesterday.

"I didn't know about it," said McClendon. "Of course I knew that the FBI had been working on gambling in general on LSU games for over a year but any further comment would have to come from the FBI."

McClendon assembled his squad later in the day and told them not to ask the trio—Gawain DiBetta, Billy Masters and Jim Dousay—any questions.

"They can't talk about it and the less we talk about it the quicker we can get down to our business of football and getting ready to play Florida Saturday night," said McClendon.

Three of the four years he wound up in the Top Ten and had a 32-10-2 record including post-season games. His 1966 club is 3-1-1.

He faced and passed his biggest obstacle to date at the start of this season. Despite his accomplishments, since 1961 he have lived in the shadow of Paul Dietzel, who brought LSU a national title in 1958, repeatedly said he'd never leave, then abruptly moved to Army.

Although Dietzel became an anathema to most LSU supporters, they expected his successor to be cut from the same mold. Dietzel is a smooth-talker, glib, charming, urbane, witty and handsome—a super salesman.

McClendon is a big, overgrown country boy, homespun and not too handsome. When he's with close friends and relaxing, he is a good conversationalist, humorous and as comfortable as an old shoe. In public he doesn't project like Dietzel.

After LSU defeated South Carolina McClendon said, "That's really a load off my back. Now we can get down to the business of playing football and not personalities."

Football Hero Ain't What He Used To Be

See him sitting there on the fence with the blue "Y" on his white sweater, the football with '06 painted on it, a serious look on his manly-jawed young face. He is for God, for country and for Yale. He is Hinkey and Coy and Dink Stover and Frank Merriwell. He is captain on the field and big man on campus that includes as many as several hundred students. He never walks anywhere, he strides. He talks like the male lead in "Ivanhoe." The coach tells him, "Nothing you do in life will ever again be so important as what you do on that football field against Harvard today" and he believes him.

HE CAME to Yale because he saved his money. Now, he must save Yale. We all know how he made the team. Big Bully kicked a ball near him as he was on his way to Latin class and ordered him to pick it up. And he did and kicked it 80 yards farther than Big Bully. Or maybe it was 100. And Coach was thunderstruck. But the manly young hero said modestly, "That is nothing, sir, I kick them much higher when I'm wearing football shoes."

AND HE worked his way through college and was the sole support of his mother and he beat Harvard not only in football but baseball, ice hockey, basketball and on the debating team. He won the 100-yard dash and the 1-mile run and went around thrashing ruffians who annoyed young women on horse cars.

THEN THE papers took him over from Ralph Henry Barbour and Burt L. Standish and he became the Galloping Ghost or the Fourth Horseman, or the Vow Boy or the Golden Boy and he came from strange places like South Bend, Indiana, or Corsicana Tech and his name wasn't "Rodney Trueheart" any more but had more syllables in it than an exploded typewriter. And Ralph Henry Barbour wouldn't like him because he smoked and went around with more than one girl at a time. They didn't photograph him on a fence with his varsity letter because they weren't sure he'd have it right side up. And all he got out of his education was a lot of lipstick and a limp.

THEN THE pros came along and college, for the hero, became just four years in Triple A or the Three-Eye League, depending on whether he went to Florida A. & B. on a leaf-raking scholarship or became the third highest-paid employee of the state of Alabama.

IT IS NOW 1966. And Frank Merriwell is dead and Walter isn't Camp any more. And I went out the other night to see the New Hero. Gary Joseph Beban, UCLA quarterback, Rose Bowl star, history major, student, medium man on campus.

His campus is not an elm-shaded little enclave with the Whiffenpoof assembled and their glasses raised on high, it is a metropolis. The student union looks like the May Co. The campus looks like Kansas City. It has everything but a subway.

GARY BEBAN drives a 1960 Chevrolet. He pays for his own books. He didn't even join a fraternity. There are large parts of the campus where they would not recognize him without a number. There are larger parts they wouldn't recognize him with one. He is a technician, not a legend. His slogan is not "Fight, Team, Fight!" but "Z-Out With A Flare Down, Team, And Flood The Zone!" Frank Merriwell sounds like just a good outside flanker to today's coaches.

"I THINK a football player today is as private an individual on campus as a Chem Lab assistant," insists Gary Beban. "You're just one of 27,500 students here, not a campus rallying point. The only thing exceptional I notice is that, to play football, you have to be prepared to give up all other activities. You need the rest of the year to catch up because you're competing largely with kids who do nothing else but study. I think the day of a man being a star in four or more sports is gone, if one of them is football."

COACH TOMMY PROTHRO agrees.

"I think the thing that made Gary Beban exceptional is that, from the start, there wasn't anything he did that it looked like he couldn't do. He's not weak running, he's not weak passing. He has great poise. When he was rushed horribly for 56 minutes in the SC game with no protection, he wasn't so demoralized that when he all of a sudden got good protection he couldn't utilize it. I never could put my finger on what leadership is but Beban has it."

WELL, AS you can see, Ralph Henry Barbour and Burt L. Standish would hardly think THAT would do. You can't have a book "Frank Merriwell and His 3.3 Rushing Average" or "Frank Merriwell and the 1-Inch Plunge" or "Frank Merriwell Hands Off."

But that's what Heroism has come down to today — The Creeping Ghost or The Four Burros. Come to think of it maybe they would have made Frank Merriwell offensive center.

per cent) for 894 yards and six touchdowns. Only one of those 81 passes has been intercepted.

Where Woodward has come seemingly out of nowhere to make a spectacular splash, Biber seems to have been here forever. Like that river, he keeps rolling along consistently, methodically, without a bad game to his credit.

His hands may be the next best thing to a flytrap. He looks deceptively slow, but most of his touchdowns have not been in the end zone. He has had to run for his points, and he has not been jogging. Somehow, he manages to get in the clear for his passes.

"Mike is pretty fast," Woodward said. "He doesn't look it but he is. And he's got tremendous moves. He can get in the open every time."

"I think he's jinxed," Woodward said. More people ought to be jinxed like that.

"I think we're in good shape in the league," Biber said. "Last year, we had a great defense, but no offense. This year, it's just the other way around."

"What has really helped is the freedom we have," Woodward said. "Coach Hector lets us make our own calls. He gives us time to work out patterns or special things during practice. It's paid off."

Woodward is still a little weary after last week's outburst. "I never thought I'd do anything lake that," he said. "I remember I came back to the sidelines and somebody said, 'Keep going, you've got 500' and I just shook my head. But then I really got nervous. It feels a little vulgar to get that many."

More than likely Woodward will get a few more. And still more than likely Biber will be there to catch most of them.

THAT'S HOW IT HAPPENED — Steve Woodward, left, and Mike Biber, Tamalpais High School's spectacular passing duo and the Independent-Journal's co-preps of the week, check over the pictorial results of their handiwork against Novato last week. Woodward passed for 546 yards and Biber caught 16 passes for 199 yards and two touchdowns in Tam's 38-25 victory. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Seals, With Help, Edge Vancouver In Overtime

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

He deflected the puck into his own net to give the California Seals a 3-2 overtime verdict 7:32 into the extra stanza. George Swarbrick was in the vicinity at the time and so was given credit for the tally. Danny Belisle hit the Seals' other scores.

California is 1-1-1 after three tough road battles and appears to be a strong team, especially if it can find an offense to match its defense. Gordy Vejprava and Bryan Hextall hit both Canuck tallies in the first period, but Seals' net-minder Jack McCartan blanked them the rest of the way to wind up with two dozen saves.

The Seals got another bit of good news yesterday. Their parent Boston club announced that they were sending their WHL farm team defenseman Al Langlois. He is a southpaw shooter and a tough customer who spend more than his share in the penalty box.

Portland is at Victoria tonight in the lone WHL contest.

Yomiuri Wins Japanese World Series

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's Yomiuri Giants, aided by tight pitching and two homers, blanked Osaka's Nankai Hawks 4-0 today to win the Japan World Series in six games 4-2.

It was the eighth championship since 1950 for the Giants, title holders in the Central League.

The Hawks, champions in the Pacific League, were held to five hits by Giant pitcher Akio Masuda.

The Giants got 11 hits against four Hawks' pitchers, including Masanori Murakami, the first Japanese to play major league baseball in the United States.

UCLA 17-Point Pick Over Cal; Stanford Is Underdog

NEW YORK (UPI) — Notre Dame may be the No. 1 team in the country and a 13-point pick over Oklahoma Saturday, but the Sooners are looking for an upset victory to avenge an Irish win way back in 1957.

The Irish, in the top slot among college football's elite for the first time this season, have a perfect 4-0 mark, and so do the Sooners. Notre Dame has downed opponents handily, scoring 128 points while allowing 21 for its four foes.

But the Sooners, under the direction of new coach Jim McKenzie, are seeking a revenge win. Nine years ago, on the same battleground as Saturday's game, the Irish stopped Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak with a 7-0 win. In the six games the two schools have played, Notre Dame holds a 5-1 edge.

Michigan State, the No. 2 team after being bypassed by the Irish, is a one-touchdown choice over ninth-ranked Purdue. The Boilermakers need another Big Ten win to keep their Rose Bowl-bound express moving. Third-ranked UCLA is a 17-point favorite against California in a Pacific Athletic Conference game. Alabama, No. 4, has the biggest edge of the top ten teams, with a 27-point margin over Vanderbilt.

GATOR'S SLIM MARGIN

Fifth-ranked Southern California is picked by 20 over Clemson and Georgia Tech (No. 6) is a 16-point selection against underrated Tulane. But, No. 7 Nebraska figures to have a battle on its hands against Colorado. The Cornhuskers are slim seven-point favorites at Boulder, Colo.

Eighth-ranked Florida has the slimmest margin of the top ten teams as the Gators are picked by only two points against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

In other top games, Ohio State appears to be 13 points better than the Wisconsin Badgers, Syracuse is favored by 16 over Holy Cross, Army's a one-touchdown choice against Pittsburgh, Navy's 14 over William and Mary, Michigan's 12 over Minnesota, Dartmouth's four over Harvard, Illinois is seven over Stanford and Missouri is 13 over conference rival Iowa State.

HOUSTON TOSS UP

Penn State is a slim two-point pick over West Virginia. Northwestern is picked by five points against Iowa, North Carolina is a one-touchdown Georgia is 15 over Kentucky, Tennessee is 18 over South Carolina, Baylor is eight against Texas A&M, and Houston and Mississippi are a toss-up.

Rounding out the top collegiate action, it's Auburn three against Texas Christian, Oklahoma State 10 over Kansas, Southern Methodist a seven-point selection against Texas Tech, Texas six over Rice, Washington 10 over Oregon, and Florida State 13 over Mississippi State.

In National Football League action, St. Louis is a seven-point choice to remain unbeaten after its meeting with Washington Sunday. Dallas is favored by one-point over Cleveland, Philadelphia by three over New York, Green Bay by 27 against the new Atlanta Falcons, Chicago six over Los Angeles, Baltimore 10 over Minnesota and San Francisco seven over Detroit.

San Diego is a seven-point choice over Boston in a top American Football League encounter. New York is also favored by seven over Oakland. Kansas City is a 17-point pick over Denver and Houston is favored by 20-points over Miami.

MARIN GRID STATS

Indians, Trojans Dominate League

There is something of a race being run in the Marin County Athletic League.

The race is as classic as good pitching versus good hitting in baseball, fast break versus controlled game in basketball. It boils down to this — which is more effective—a solid defense or a blistering offense?

One look at the football statistics and you see it's a draw. The two teams sitting unblemished on top of the loop standings lead nearly every individual and team category, with Terra Linda (3-0) holding nearly every major defense lead and Tamalpais (2-0) leading the offensive charge.

Last week's 38-25 win over Novato, which resulted in a total yardage of 628 for Tam, pulled it away to a big bulge in offense, despite the fact that the Indians have played only two league games.

They lead the league in passing yardage with 721 yards and in total yardage with 929, in each case holding a big edge.

Quarterback Steve Woodward has a big edge in the passing department after his record 546 yards against Novato, leading with 646 yards on 38 completions in 53 tries for a 71.8 percentage.

Terra Linda's defensive standouts, on the other hand, lead in rushing defense and total defense, allowing a total of just 169 yards per game, 74 rushing, 95 passing. San Rafael has the passing defense lead with 83 allowed per game.

The ground-minded Trojans also lead the league in rushing with a 195-yard average in three games and halfback Paul Lee has the individual rushing lead with 249 yards in 48 carries.

Sprinters Feel Mexico City's High Altitude

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "My chest was so tight, I thought it was going to pop and spew my ribs on the track," said 17-year-old Billie Gaines of Mullica Hills, N.J.

"At first, I almost blacked out — my eyes got woozy — but I took some deep breaths and was all right," said Tommie Smith of Los Angeles.

Smith, stringbean world record holder in the 200 meters and 220 yards, and Gaines, the amazing schoolboy from New Jersey, finished second and third, respectively, yesterday to Cuba's veteran Enrique Figuerola in the 100-meter dash of the Little Olympics.

10.4 CLOCKING

Both Figuerola and Smith were timed in 10.4 seconds, with Gaines one-10th of a second behind.

"I figure that is about a 9.5 for the 100-yard dash," Smith said. "That's not so bad, but it really takes something out of you—even at this short distance."

Smith, who along with other members of the U.S. track and field team didn't check in until last night, said he believed it would take at least two weeks at this altitude to get ready for the 100 and three weeks for anyone running 400 and above.

"When I first got here, my head began spinning, my eyes got woozy and my chest felt like it was all clogged up," Smith said. "When I feel like that, I stop and take 10 deep breaths.

"When I'm running, I don't think about it."

NOT DISAPPOINTED

Smith said he was not disappointed with his race. "I'm really a 200-meter man," he said. "I don't get warmed up until I hit the 100 mark."

The United States extended its medal lead when a dark horse, Neil Steinhauper, who was not even listed with the official U.S. squad, won the shot put with 61 feet, 5 inches (18.72 meters). Smith got a silver and Gaines a bronze in the 100-meter dash.

This gave the Americans a total of 18 golds, 12 silvers and nine bronze compared with Russia's 13-11-9 ratio.

Valeriy Shorzkov of the Soviet Union won the high jump (2.12 meters, 6 feet, 11½ inches) and the Russians got a bronze in the 5,000 meters where Jurily Zuring finished third behind Colombia's Mohamed Gammoudix (14:20).

Marin Frosh, Jayvee Grid Notes

By ROB HARVEY

San Rafael's freshman footballers, coached by Bob Pollitt, took advantage of Terra Linda's defensive breakdown, played good offensive ball, and rode to their third straight Marin County Athletic League win of the season, 20-7, last Thursday at San Rafael.

Outstanding offensive stars for the San Rafael frosh were Bruce Maglione, with one touchdown on a pass from Lowell Widmer, and a total of 96 yards on the day; Dennis Silva, who scored the first six points and wound up with 71 yards, and Bob Wisekotten, producer of the second tally and a total of 51 yards.

Pollitt noted that the San Rafael frosh actually "won the game right on the line." He singled out linemen Dan Coleman, Bruce Nave, Dick Herman and linebacker Bruce D'Ambere, who filled in for injured Phil Green.

From Terra Linda coach Hank Yamagata commented that holes in the defensive line, and the ineffectiveness of quarterback Tom Jackson, who played only briefly in the second half "after the damage was already done," certainly affected the team's moral. Yamagata, however, refused to use that for an alibi and was impressed with San Rafael.

Terra Linda is now 2-1 in MCAL play. They'll be hoping someone stops San Rafael.

Mike Farley, halfback, ran for two touchdowns as Redwood's frosh squad won its first league fray of the season, defeating Marin Catholic last Friday at Redwood, 13-7.

Farley scored on runs of 41 and 53 yards. Tom Wickert, fullback, was also outstanding for the victors, picking up about 55 yards in 11 carries.

Elsewhere around the frosh football circle, Novato spanked host Tamalpais Friday, 38-0, while Drake lost to St. Vincent's of San Rafael, 14-0, last Thursday at St. Vincent's.

Novato's win must have been purely a case of a superior force; but the score of that Drake game wasn't as bad as it might look.

Head Pirate mentor Jim Brown pointed to Petaluma's 46-7 victory over Tamalpais' frosh last weekend, in addition to stressing his team's fine defensive play, spearheaded by Wayne Peacock, who Brown said "did a bang-up job."

JUNIOR VARSITY

In junior varsity action, Dave Hector sparked Tam to a 19-7 win over Novato last Saturday at Novato, scoring the first six-points on a 3-yard buck, and passing 53 yeards to Bill Schneider for the second tally.

Steve Martin blocked a punt to set the stage for the final Tam score, a 25-yard run by Luther Brown. The win gave the junior Injuns a perfect 2-0 mark in the mythical J.V. league.

Adams scored three times, once on a punt return of about 60-yards and again on runs of 30 and 2 yards respectively, while Dorinson went to paydirt of a 35-yarder for his first touchdown, then pulled down a 40-yard aerial from Pete Carroll for his second.

Defensive standouts for the victors were linebacker Bruce Jenkinson and lineman Dan Deedy and Pat Diaz, who were "good when they were in there," according to Tony Bailey, Redwood coach. Redwood had a 26-0 score in its favor at the half. The win increased its record to 3-1 overall and 2-0 in league.

The only other junior varsity tussles saw Drake falling to Cardinal Newman in a practice clash last Saturday on the victor's field; and San Rafael and Terra Linda playing to a 6-6 draw.

Coaches were not available for comment on those games.

Sandy Does It Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers set a major league record by leading the National League in earned run average for the fifth straight year in 1966, the final averages disclosed today. Koufax compiled a 1.73 mark. Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox topped the American League with 2.03.

Sad Farewell To Fisherfolks; Louie, Suetta LaGrone Retire

STEVENS

There is a time to say hello, and a time to say goodbye. Goodbyes are always a bit sad, and so I feel a mite sad at having to say goodbye to another pair of fine people who have been serving the fisher folk for many, many years.

Louie and Suetta LaGrone are retiring as of today from the cares and tribulations of rising at dawn for over 22 years, first as skipper and first mate of a sport fishing boat berthed at the Martinez Harbor and for two decades as managers of the famous Dillon's Point shore fishing resort on the Carquinez Strait.

HUNDREDS OF sports anglers will remember the days long ago (1949, '50 and in that era), when Lou LaGrone skippered the large party boat Bonito out of Martinez, and other hundreds will remember the Dillon's Point set-up where only bank fishing was to be had, with Suetta LaGrone as hostess, and where the plug casting for stripers was widely known for the exciting early morning and late evening hours which furnished some of the finest shore fishing in the entire Bay Area.

ALL OF us oldtimers say a sad goodbye to the LaGrones and to the Dillon's Point fishery. (The new state recreational park, now being readied, will automatically close the well known Point.)

Yes, we say goodbye in one breath but give a resounding hello to the LaGrones as newly retired people who must be known hereafter as plain Mr. and Mrs. From now on they will be residents of a mobile home park in Napa. They have purchased a large, well equipped mobile home and henceforth and hereafter will live the life of ease so well earned. Here's a sincere wish this fine couple enjoy every minute of every hour of their retirement, when fishing becomes an avocation, not a vocation.

DEEP WATER salmon trolling remains just so-so, not bad and not hot. Minnie Caruso of Caruso's place in Sausalito reported only fair salmon fishing with the top boat, the Sunrise, netting 9 salmon to 30 pounds and the top fish, caught aboard the Jennie C, a 38-pounder. All boats worked close in off Slide Ranch.

Striper striving in the area from Point Richmond to the Carquinez Bridge has been quite productive . . . live bait fishing in the Red Rock-Sisters area and grass shrimp, sardines and bullhead bait taking most of the fish. Trolling in the upper San Pablo Bay has given way to bottom fishing with bait. Alice Quan of China Camp reported fair fishing in the Pump House region about 18 bass and 4 sturgeon to 45 inches coming in on Saturday and near limits on Sunday.

20th Century-Fox Raking In The Money

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "On the strength of the earnings report, I bought 100 Twentieth Century-Fox at 35. Then it dropped sharply and I wonder if I should continue to hold it." R.C.

A. Yes, you should. Speculative potential is attractive, looking ahead for the two or three years. Shares had a good rebound, coinciding with the completion of a $19.5 million licensing agreement with American Broadcasting for the televising of 17 movies, including "Cleopatra." The latter will probably appear twice for TV home viewers over the next four years.

Meanwhile the dollars continue to roll in from "The Sound of Music," which is rapidly catching up with filmdom's No. 1 moneymoker — "Gone With the Wind." The sharp drop in TF which disturbed you resulted from a temporary snag in the premiere showing of its newest spectacular, "The Bible." While it is too early to judge its box office appeal over a wide area, company expects it to boost revenues for 1967.

Q. "It was recently brought to my attention that the dividends paid by certain utility companies are exempt from Federal income tax. Is this correct?" J.C.

A. Yes, it is, but not to the extent that total exemption is allowed nor a flat rate set up. The so-called "tax shelter" feature varies from company to company, because it results from certain accounting practices within the company.

On the basis of allowances on 1965 tax returns, here is a sampling of well-known companies with exemptions above 50 cent cent: Arizona Public Service, Consolidated Edison, Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line, Orange and Rockland Utilities, Pacific Power and Light and Puget Sound Power and Light.

Exemptions under 50 per cent were allowed on dividends paid by Atlantic City Electric, Duquesne Light, El Paso Natural Gas, New England Electric System, Niagara Mohawk, Potomac Electric, Tennessee Gas Transmission, Union Electric and Washington Water Power and a number of others. Similar exemptions are looked for again this year, but of course there is no guarantee.

Profit-Taking Puts Market Down Some

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a fairly sharp loss today as profits were taken on a two-day recovery drive. Trading was moderately active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 7.19 million yesterday.

The market rose in early trading but soon tired. Lacking any fresh news incentive, the list succumbed to profit taking.

New York Central was down almost 4 and Pennsylvania Railroad more than 2 following Supreme Court action postponing the effective date of their merger.

IBM dropped 7 points, Du Pont nearly 6, Fairchild Camera 4, Motorola 3, Union Carbide, Itek, Collins Radio, Litton Industries, Teledyne, Texas Instruments and Texas Gulf Sulphur about 2 each.

Losses of a point or so were taken by SCM, Eastman Kodak and Pan American World Airways.

The top steelmakers advanced. Republic Steel was up about 2, Jones and Laughlin around a point, Bethlehem and U.S. Steel fractions.

We Endorse Prop. 1-A But With Reservations

Proposition 1-A on the Nov. 8 ballot would revise the bulky state Constitution, provide for annual regular sessions of the Legislature, and increase salaries of legislators from the present $6,000 to $16,000.

It would also establish a "code of ethics" for legislators to prevent conflict of interest and fix limitations on retirement benefits and cost of living and travel pay.

Quite possibly, the Legislature, as a means of offsetting the present unrealistic low pay ($6,000), has voted for itself overly fat expense costs.

We regret that Proposition 1-A does not provide specific and effective ceilings and limitations to guard against fat expense accounts.

In the past, considerable concern has been voiced on the travel pay of legislators who go on long junkets. A legislative conference in Puerto Rico, for example, drew mileage cost claims of more than $1,000 by several legislators, whereas a round trip ticket between Sacramento and Puerto Rico on an airline actually costs between $368 (tourist class) and $494 (first class).

Proposition 1-A provides for reimbursement for travel at "common carrier rates" when such means of travel is feasible, otherwise at 15 cents per mile. It does not specify whether the "common carrier rates" will be the most expensive or the least expensive rates available.

Retirement benefits are computed on a formula based on pay, plus the cost-of-living increases which may be granted after retirement.

If the salary goes up to $16,000, it is obvious that in a few years, retirement benefits will also begin to mount.

A salary of $6,000 is unrealistically low. But with a pay raise to $16,000, the public deserves specific assurances that fringe benefits like travel expense and retirement pay would be held to a level more commensurate with the raise in salary.

Despite these reservations, we recommend a YES vote on Proposition 1-A, and hope that the Legislature will exercise prudence in reviewing the excessive expense allowances that they now enjoy.

On Proposition 1 (which would permit public retirement funds to invest in common stock), we have previously expressed our support.

It would permit public retirement funds (like the Marin County Employees Retirement Fund) to take advantage of stock investment, just as private pension funds and institutions like the University of California have been doing.

The state legislative analyst reports that the increase in administrative cost, as a result of Proposition 1, would be "more than offset" by increased investment earnings to the retirement fund and a reduction in both state and employee contributions to the system.

We recommend a YES vote on Proposition 1.

October—Marin's Golden Month

October is a favorite month of many Marinites. A month of warm afternoons and cool, crisp evenings. The grass has long since turned golden, now to be joined by the trees.

Marin's autumn colors are unspectacular compared with the crimsons and purples of the New England maples, but nonetheless we do have vivid patches here and there.

If Marinites like October, it might also be said that October likes Marin and usually treats her kindly.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

If Elected, Reagan Promises To Review Farm Labor Needs

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Two additional and important items remain on the list candidate Ronald Reagan presents to the people of California in his bid for governorship of the state. They are:

Agriculture—Provide the agricultural community with sufficient status in the state government to ensure recognitions and understanding of the farmers' pressing problems; review the tax structure with a view toward elimination of discriminatory and regressive taxes; face squarely the problem of farm labor and the need for a solution that will guarantee an adequate labor supply with protection for the welfare both of the farmer and worker; use the prestige of the governor's office to review of the 64-year-old, unrealistic limitation of 160 acres on the size of irrigated farms.

Political Appointments — Make appointments to state offices on the basis of experience and qualifications, not on personal loyalties or political obligations; provide extensive information on all appointive officers; establish an independent review board of lawyers, scholars, and representatives of the public to nominate a panel of five outstanding attorneys to fill each judicial vacancy.

THUS, IT CAN be seen that the Reagan program is impressive, and differs to considerable extent from the methods and procedures under the Democratic administration.

Pre-emption of the state in certain matters which in the past have been city and county problems, such as the Carol Lane case in Los Angeles, appear to necessitate legislation if cities and counties are to retain their autonomy. Reagan promises to ask the Legislature to restore these rights to cities and counties.

As to taxes, efforts have been made for several years to revise the major tax program of the state. A new committee, with a fresh outlook on the problems, no doubt would give this program a tremendous boost.

BEST CHANCES of accomplishment on Reagan's part lies in the welfare field, for the simple reason there is a general feeling that welfare, with its high tax cost, can stand an overhauling, with the object being to put people on welfare rolls back on productive work.

Some moves along this line have been made by the Brown administration, but the fact remains that welfare costs have not decreased and show no indication of decreasing under the present system.

If elected, Reagan's success in performing within the bounds of his stated aims and ambitions, will depend largely on whether or not he is able to control the state Legislature. This body, in the final analysis, calls the shots on any gubernatorial program.

However, the governor has extraordinary power in the field of administration, and through proper selection of top executives, can effect economies which in the long run will inur to the benefit of the taxpayer. This Reagan has promised to do. As governors have for the past 35 years, he also will encounter the bug-a-boo of entrenched civil service which might hinder some of his program.

Reader Praises Route Carrier

Editor Independent-Journal:

The newsboy who delivers our paper, Craig Danford, who lives at 22 Berens Drive, Kentfield, has advised us that because he has advanced beyond the age for your delivery boy, our paper will be brought to us by another.

I would like to assure you in this way that Craig has served us exceptionally well, and I feel that he is the best newspaperboy that I have ever known. During the many years that he has served us, he has consistently placed the paper on the deck by our front door. He has always been most courteous and polite and is a credit to his family and to the newspaper.

(We have no maximum age for newspaperboys. Each boy decides for himself when he wants to quit his route. When a youth enters high school, there seems to be an unwritten social rule that makes him give up both bicycle riding and the paper route. Neither makes sense. It would seem more advantageous for youths to ride bicycles to high school than to walk or hitch rides. It is a rare teen-ager who will defy that social stigma. But we do have some who continue their paper routes through high school and even college. They are mature, better qualified and valued members of our staff—Editor.)

News Media Applauded

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial Sept. 19 pertaining to the McGoran case makes me feel that there is still a spark of true reporting without preference of who is who in the social register.

Based on my own experiences I could publicly name public servants in various levels of government whose professional conduct is a disgrace to the ethical function of due processes of law and justice.

Whenever judges and attorneys commit themselves to the most dastardly ways and means to deprive citizens of legal (word illegible—Editor) to the point that grand juries refuse to take an interest in factual and provable issues, what can the general public down to one individual victim expect in term of justice based on equality.

It is indeed understandable that an apathetic minded hypocrite will do his level best to influence those according to the chain of command to cover up the issue by professional ways and means when honesty and integrity must be saved by the untouchable method to remain on the winners side.

It is only when the news media is willing to enter into such disputes that much of existing corruption in government of, by, and for the people can and should be eliminated.

I am doubtful that this letter would in any way benefit me under the prevailing circumstances by printing of same. I am however, hopeful that John M. McGoran will rip some of the benefits which have been denied me when I was in need of help.

Money Not The Answer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I live in a nation that has a tremendous social conscience. A poster of a crippled child or any desperately sick human being touches this nation's soul and also its purse strings. In this century especially, many tragic evils and injustices of society have been erased. When they became known to the general public, they were changed.

Right now, in a little country far away, we have become ensnared in a horrifying war from which we seem powerless to detach ourselves.

I have just read Felix Green's "Vietnam! Vietnam!" He restates through text and pictures what I have read and reread often lately, and which my own intelligence and reason know to be true. We are acting as a destructive force towards a very small nation without justification.

As a high school student years ago, I recall reading of "Atilla the Hun," and the savage and brutal wars that he waged in Asia centuries ago. It gave me great security to feel that I was living in a civilized world where such cruelty no longer existed. It is very painful to accept that it is happening again; again in Asia, but today it is our beautiful American which has inherited Atilla's mantle.

When someone knocks at my door and asks my help for crippled children, cancer or other sorrowful needs, I can give some money and know that I have helped. But what can I do when I see a picture of a Vietnamese child or even a Vietnamese adult who has been burned by napalm.

I care very much and very deeply for all of us — Americans and Vietnamese, but I don't know what I as an individual can do. Somehow giving a dollar at my door does not seem to be the answer.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A YOUNG BUILDER had just gone into business for himself and a wealthy old friend of his father told him, "To get you started right, I'm going to let you build me this ranch house. Here are the plans. Now don't skimp on anything. I want the very best materials used. Forget the costs. Just send me the bills."

The greedy young builder wasn't satisfied with this generous gesture and instead of employing top-grade labor and buying the finest materials, he short-changed his benefactor in every possible way. Finally the last second-hand nail had been driven into the last flimsy wall, and the builder handed over the keys and bills totaling around $70,000 to his father's old friend. That gentleman promptly wrote out a check and handed the keys back to the builder. "That house you just built, my boy," he said with a hearty laugh, "is my present to you. It's all yours. May you live in it in happiness for the rest of your life."

DURING A cold snap at Fort Dix last November, the heating plant broke down, and after shivering for several hours, several new draftees mustered sufficient courage to complain to their tough top sergeant. "What do you need heat for?" bellowed that worthy. "It's only down to twenty degrees outside." "But it's fifteen inside the barracks," wailed one trainee. "Okay," grunted the sergeant. "Open the windows!"

Improved U.S.-Soviet Climate 'Best' Since The Late 1940s

WASHINGTON—It is entirely possible that the cordial, responsive, let's-move-ahead talks between President Johnson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are the most important single event in behalf of a better peace since the end of World War II.

Not because of their immediate effect of clearing the path to a world-wide treaty to prevent the perilous spread of nuclear weapons.

This in itself is breathtakingly welcome. I think we can take it for granted that a firm basis for the non proliferation treaty has not been laid and that its completion is a matter of timing.

BUT THE potential of this new climate of Soviet-American relations is tremendous.

When I suggest that this is the most significant and productive event in 20 years, I mean that it is now possible that we are at the beginning stage of forming a U.S.-Soviet alliance to keep the peace in the most combustible areas of the world.

Obviously this is reading a good deal into the Johnson-Gromyko, Rusk-Gromyko talks. But they portend far more than any of the participants can say at the moment. Obviously the potential is well down the road, but there is reason to believe that both U.S. and Soviet officials are looking well down the road.

WHAT, THEN, is the shape of events which provides the impetus to move toward a mutual security alliance? Consider these circumstances:

Red China is in turmoil and in trouble, its leaders are divided and quarrelling, a massive purge is still raging and Mao Tse-tung may be replaced.

Russia sees repeated Chinese encroachments against the Soviet Eastern borders affecting territory to which Peking claims title. Moscow rightly asks itself: Are Chinese forces getting ready to move into the disputed territory?

By now Red China has virtually isolated itself from the whole Communist world and the violence and recklessness of the Red Guards have alienated the support of even the Asian Communist parties. The North Korean and Japanese Communists are now pro-Soviet. The Indonesian Communists are decimated. Hanoi needs Soviet protection more than it needs Chinese help.

SINCE MOSCOW has won the sympathy and understanding of nearly the entire Communist world over the Sino-Soviet split, the Soviets are now in a position to take a bold and unconventional step to protect themselves from an expansionist, aggressive, anti-Soviet Red China.

And what would that bold step be?

It could well be a U.S.-Soviet mutual security alliance to contain Red China to its present frontiers and to guarantee the independence and peace of all Southeast Asia.

Since, with mounting vituperation, Peking has been accusing Moscow of coming into an "unholy alliance" with the U.S., the Soviets can well conclude that they might as well have the advantage and not just the epithets — of such an alliance.

ALL THIS would seem to me to be to the advantage of the U.S. and the Soviets. Such an alliance alone could really secure the peace of Southeast Asia. It would, of course, require a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war as a result of which the independence of both North and South Viet Nam could be guaranteed.

Why is a U.S.-Soviet Asian security alliance a rational potential? Because an expansionist Red China is a peril to both the U.S. and Russia and only by acting together can that peril be securely countered.

Cellar Holds Up Anti-Crime Bill

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Senate-passed "immunity bill," an urgently sought major weapon in the thorny fight against the powerful crime syndicates of hoodlums, racketeers and gang murderers, is being deliberately scuttled in the House by one man.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., veteran chairman of the judiciary committee, is using his virtual dictatorial powers to block consideration of this crucial anti-crime legislation—which the Senate approved overwhelmingly by a voice vote Aug. 26, and which would win similar sweeping House enactment if it could be brought up there.

BUT ON THE CLAIM the measure raises questions involving individual rights, Celler has pigeonholed it in his committee. And, barring a highly unlikely last-minute change of heart, that's where it is destined to expire.

With Congress rushing pell-mell to wind up next week, there is no practical way the "immunity bill" can be pried out of the judiciary committee over Celler's head. Time doesn't permit recourse to the laborious parliamentary procedure necessary to accomplish that.

As a consequence, this key legal weapon in the extremely difficult struggle against organized crime is dead for this Congress. The only way it can be revived is to start it through the legislative mill again in the new Congress that convenes in January.

YEARS OF STRENUOUS effort and the vigorous support of a host of top federal and state authorities are being frustrated by Celler's obstructive opposition.

Foremost among those who have urged enactment of this anti-crime measure are President Johnson in a special message to Congress last March, former Attys. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Nicholas Katzenbach, acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Kentucky Atty. Gen. Robert Matthews, Rhode Island Atty. Gen. J. Joseph Nugent, Ephraim Gomberg, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Crime Commission.

Sponsored by Sens. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the permanent investigating committee, and Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, the "immunity bill" is an outgrowth of a series of sensational hearings in which notorious gangsters refused to testify.

Then, Kennedy told the probers it was essential to find some legal way to obtain evidence against the criminal underworld.

"IT IS VIRTUALLY impossible to obtain testimony from any of those who are directly involved," he said. "If an outside individual is brought in, businessman, labor leader or an ordinary citizen, we have found from experience that he becomes so intimidated he will refuse to testify.

"If we could obtain an immunity provision so that we could give immunity and require testimony, it would be extremely helpful in cutting down on the big-time activities of those engaged in organized crime."

"ORGANIZED CRIME will stop at nothing to escape detection and prosecution. Torture and murder of witnesses, efforts to bribe prosecutors and jurors are familiar racketeering techniques. The pending legislation would expand the authority of the Justice Department to immunize hostile but knowledgeable witnesses against prosecution and thereby enable them to testify without incriminating themselves."

SENATOR McClellan, in winning speedy and overwhelming Senate approval of his bill, described its purpose as follows:

"To provide a statutory method for compelling witnesses to testify or produce documentary evidence concerning violations (of laws), notwithstanding their objection that such testimony or evidence might be self-incriminating, by granting them immunity from prosecution for matters or transactions revealed by testimony or documentary evidence."

Too Much Press, Not Enough Conference In Press Meetings

THE TROUBLE with press conferences is that there's too much press and not enough conference.

I learned long ago that there are only two things to remember when you go to a press conference. 1. Face the fact that you won't learn anything you didn't know when you arrived. 2. Get near a door or window or you'll faint from suffocation.

Take the press conference given by United States Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien at San Francisco Airport a week ago last Monday.

It was held in United Air Lines' Aloha Room, an exotic title for a smallish room into which crammed 70 assorted reporters and cameramen. Practically on the runway. One wrong turn and half the Bay Area's fourth estate would have been enroute to Klamath Falls.

WE SIPPED coffee while we waited for the postmaster to nip around the international airmail facilities—which was farsighted, if miserly, Post Office wisdom. I've been to many press conferences at which the speaker arrived late, to find himself practically the only person in the room sober enough to speak, let alone ask a question or hold a pencil.

The TV people set up their bulky equipment in front of the speaker's stand. (And there's another fact of journalistic life. The telly people are always up in front. They're the officers. Plain old newspaper people are non-coms.)

BY THE TIME the room was crammed wall-to-wall, in bustled the postmaster general, flanked by the ubiquitous dark-suited, crew-cut federal followers on. Civil Service. Secret Service. They all look as if they're poured from identical molds.

O'Brien was cool, calm and collected as he launched into his prepared speech. After five minutes under the blazing TV lights sweat was pouring down his forehead, and he lit a cigarette, which isn't too good for the old TV image.

And then the joyful moment — "Does anyone have any questions?"

Did we ever. That's what we'd gone there for. To find out why mail is delayed. Why the Post Office has frozen new hirings and cut out overtime. Would the Post Office hire unemployed people from riot areas.

Did we find out?

WHAT WE learned, once again, is that the higher a man goes in public office the higher his capacity to speak at great length and say nothing. O'Brien is a champion.

He answered several questions, but none could understand his answers, and when one newsman had the gumption to say so, he was rewarded with a finger-wagging scolding from the postmaster general.

Compounding the non-communication were the familiar villians, the telly people. They have to produce a couple of minutes of film, preferably with their interviewer asking the question—and by hook or by crook or by the simple fact they're up in front, they do it.

PIA LINDSTROM, whose only qualifications for newscasting appears to be the fact that she's Ingrid Bergman's daughter, and wears the longest false eyelashes this side of the broom closet, piped up and asked the postmaster general why we couldn't forget all this automation and have two postal deliveries a day like in the old days.

Amid muffled giggles from the reporters, who, if they'd understood little at least comprehended that the post office is having its problems getting mail delivered even once a day, Miss Lindstrom posed artlessly listening to a torrent of explanation from O'Brien as her cameraman focused on her face.

The Aloha Room became hotter and hotter. The talk drifted away from the post office as O'Brien chatted amiably about Bobby Kennedy's presidential ambitions and President Johnson's political campaigning.

A COUPLE of the dark-suited fellows behind me whispered: "Did you get to shake his hand?" Guess they weren't Secret Service, but rising young post office chaps.

By now O'Brien (who'd been addressed variously as Mr. Postmaster, Mr. General, General O'Brien, but never Mr. O'Brien) was talking about hiring a new postmaster in Chicago. A couple of reporters swayed on their feet as oxygen became scarcer and the temperature rose.

Suddenly O'Brien said briskly, "Thank you."

It was all over. We left, bemused, still not knowing why a letter mailed in London sometimes arrives in Marin faster than one posted in San Francisco.

Damage Suit Alleges Slander

Eugene A. Beaman of Concord accuses William Hoffman Jr. of Hoffman's Super Valu Inc., Stinson Beach, of making accusations of dishonesty while Beaman was employed by Homestead Bakery, 629 Lindaro Street, San Rafael, on Aug. 9.

Beaman charges slanderous comments were made while he was delivering bakery products to the Hoffman store, that he was later transferred to another route, and that it resulted in his income being substantially reduced.

ART BUCHWALD

Let Red China's Big Boss Put You Behind The Driver's Seat

WASHINGTON—It has been reported that the teachings of Mao Tse-tung inspired the production of an improved version of the new Communist Chinese car "Red Flag."

Hsinhua, the Chinese Communist press agency, said that the designers had to start from scratch with neither blueprints nor prototypes, and although the Changchun motor factory had been short of many things, Mao's teachings were used as a guiding principle for all actions. Because of Mao, the news agency said, the Chinese people have a car far superior to any in the West.

There is no reason to doubt the word of an official Chinese Communist news agency, and it is quite possible that Mao Tse-tung's works were used in the building of the "Red Flag."

When the decision was made to build an automobile called the "Red Flag," the Chinese engineers started studying Mao's works.

In his famous treatise "How to Make a Great Leap Forward Without a Four-Wheel Drive," Mao wrote: "A single spark can start a prairie fire." The engineers concluded that Mao meant a car shouldn't have spark plugs.

Further on they found: "Counter-revolution must be exterminated and the seats of power must be turned over to the people."

"What do you think he meant by that?" an engineer asked.

"HE PROBABLY meant we should put seats in the car."

"No, on the contrary, I think he was talking about the engine. The power for the car should be under the seats."

"I beg to differ. Mao meant we must eliminate the engine and use the power of the people to move the automobile."

"That's a great idea. We could have someone up front pulling the car."

"Wouldn't that make it a rickshaw?" a younger engineer asked.

"I knew I had seen the idea somewhere," the other engineer said.

"READ FURTHER. There must be some more clues."

One of the engineers read, "The revolution depends on the support of the masses and the vigilance of the people to break the revisionists and capitalistic lackeys who are waiting to commit insidious crimes against the state."

"Didn't he say something about brakes?"

"That's it. He wants us to put brakes on the car."

"HERE'S SOMETHING we can use. 'The tools of imperialism must be used against the neo-colonialists.'"

"That helps," an engineer said. "Now if we could only find something on the exterior."

"Our leader thought of everything. The car needs a body."

"THAT ABOUT wraps it up, gentlemen. Why don't we start building the car and if we get stuck we can always refer to Mao's works. What's that blue paper you're studying, Lin Pao?"

"It's the blueprints of the Edsel. I thought we might use them as a guide."

BOYHOOD RECALLED

Banker's Smallest Loan Puts A Boy On Wheels

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — When 12-year-old Robert Jimmy Bowers wanted a new bicycle he went to a bank for a loan. He got both the loan and the bike.

Jimmy works after school at a pizza place. He saved $30 shoveling snow and cutting grass, but needed another $10.

Jimmy wrote to Logan F. Wyrick, vice chairman of the University bank in Kansas City, to explain that he needed $10 to replace his old bike.

"All of a sudden I was thinking back 50 years and how I shined shoes to buy my first bicycle in Eldon, Mo.," said Wyrick.

Last week, young Bowers, owner of a new black English racing bicycle, walked into the bank and made his first payment of $1.

Minister Free; Planning Rally

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Rev. Ian Paisley, leader of Northern Ireland's Protestant extremists, was released from Belfast jail today after serving a three-month term for refusing to keep the peace.

He told a crowd of about 100 outside the jail to come back tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock "for a real good Protestant rally on the steps of the prison."

Paisley's breakaway church has only about 3,000 members but he has much wider support among other Ulstermen who fear the increasing influence of Roman Catholicism.

East Oakland Gang Outbreak Is Put Down

OAKLAND (AP) — Gangs of Negro youths rampaged through East Oakland last night, breaking store windows and throwing stones, bricks and bottles at police and passing vehicles.

Police, fearing a full-scale riot in the racially mixed area, called out reinforcements. A 10 p.m. juvenile ordinance was imposed. That restored order after some three hours.

BOYCOTT CITED

Deputy Police Chief Ray Brown said a three-day school boycott called for today may have triggered the outburst. Boycott organizers, concentrating on Negroes, are protesting the quality of Oakland's education.

Another factor was an incident at a gasoline station just as schools were letting out. A Negro woman, whose car was sideswiped, chased the car that struck her to the station, blocked it there and called police.

Youngsters, returning from school, swarmed around the imprisoned car and became unruly when a policeman arrested a youth who sassed them when told to move on.

Garbage cans were overturned, rocks and bottles flew and two bicycles were thrown through shop windows.

MORE TROUBLE

It took two hours and five arrests to calm that incident and trouble started again after the dinner hour when gangs of between 15 and 40 each started roaming East 14th street between 73rd and 90th streets, an area made up largely of Negroes and Spanish speaking residents.

During the worst of the trouble, buses were rerouted around the area and automobile drivers were discouraged from entering, although there was no blockade.

No Stars Just Yet For Servicewomen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Where the rank of general is concerned, women will just have to wait—the double standard will be around for a while.

The Senate Armed Services Committee decided yesterday to delay until next year its consideration of a House-approved bill opening the rank to U.S. servicewomen.

G.E. Workers Go Back To Factory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Obeying a federal court order, more than 6,000 employes were returning to their jobs today at a General Electric Co. plant near Cincinnati, Ohio, that produces jet engines for a type of warplane used extensively in Viet Nam.

The Defense Department was reported keeping tabs on strikes at eight other G.E. plants in five states to see if any of these stoppages is slowing war production.

U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman issued a temporary injunction in Dayton, Ohio, yesterday ordering the striking workers at the Evendale, Ohio, G.E. plant back to their jobs. Acting on a request initiated by President Johnson under the Taft-Hartley Act the judge halted the walkout for an 80-day cooling-off period.

The White House said Johnson plans no action now against strikes at the eight other G.E. plants that have idled about 25,000 workers. It said the Pentagon is keeping an eye on the situation.

Striking members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union and the AFL-CIO International Assn. of Machinists began returning to their jobs at the Evendale plant at midnight.

The strike at the Evendale plant was over local issues, as are the disputes at the eight other G.E. plants. A nationwide walkout against the major defense supplier was averted last week when the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and 10 other unions reached a national agreement with the company.

Ike Says GOP Gains Necessary

CULPEPER, Va. (AP) — Former President Dwight Eisenhower says substantial Republican gains in the November elections are necessary for the nation because "the only way to keep politics policed is to have one party strong enough to watch the other."

Eisenhower said yesterday, "I'm certainly hoping for gains, especially in the House. We have to have a two-party system. A system of self-government such as ours is seriously damaged if one party gains complete control of all branches of government."

Key Witness In Slaying Goes Home

One man has been convicted in the slaying with the help of Wallace Charleston's testimony and four others await trial.

"I can't afford to say here and be a witness," Charleston said at the airport. "I can't get a job and I have no other source of income and I don't see how Walter (Guibbini) can prosecute the case without me."

Guibbini, an assistant district attorney, said the $20 day allowance was stopped because it was not known when the next trial would be held.

Charleston's testimony helped convict Norman Call, 46, a Sacramento painting contractor, of murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Winson, 45, leader of an AFL-CIO Painters Union local in San Francisco.

Ward is a painting contractor and like Call had been an employer trustee for a looted Sacramento local's welfare fund. Black was the fund's auditor, Rock operates a Tenderloin saloon, and Rasnick as a union district council official who had disagreed with Wilson.

Charleston noted the prosecution could subpoena him, but said: "Who ever heard of the state calling an unfriendly witness."

School Property Cleanup Studied

Marin County supervisors yesterday asked the county administrator and county planning department to study the possibility of leasing the presently unkept Tamalpais High School District site in Marin City from the school district and installing some temporary landscaping.

The suggestion was made by Superintendent Ernest N. Kettenhofen, referring to a campaign for a clean-up of the area by the Pacific Sun, a twice-a-week newspaper.

Kettenhofen said the landscaping could be a community project with the county supplying the materials. He thought the county could lease the property from the school district for a dollar a year and hold it until it is needed for a school.
